Truce In Alberta As House Begins Its Social Credit Move

Pledge Binds Groups to Avoid Attacks on Each Other in Legislature

Douglas Man There As M.P.P.'s Meet

EDMONTON (CP)—Ninety per cent of Social Credit members of the Legislature of Alberta have signed or will sign a pledge presenting a united front for introduction of monetary reform theories under the supervision of Major C. H. Douglas, it was reported here today, as the legislature assembled for the reopening of the House after its period of adjournment.

With the pledge binding the members to stand behind the Social Credit planning board and its technicians, returned today at a caucus, it appeared the party ranks were more solidified than they had been in months. Several members followed the example of Premier William Aberhart and signed pledges at a caucus Friday, and others took them home to peruse over the week-end.

Insurgents and loyalists apparently had signed a truce in their party squabble that nearly defeated the government in April and led to adjournment of the Legislature. The pledge bound them to stop attacking each other, to avoid acrimonious discussions and to concentrate on Social Credit.

NO EARLY ELECTION

If the party presents a united front, there will be no necessity of another general election, Premier Aberhart told the Edmonton Bible Conference last night.

"I am confident that every Social Credit M.P.P. will unite for the purpose of reaching our objective without another election," the Premier said. "The people gave a definite mandate in August, 1935 (the date of the last provincial election). From what I have heard, they are still of the same opinion so, if we are able to unite on one common objective, there can be no need of another general election in Alberta."

The session opening this afternoon is a continuation of the one that started in February. The insurgent-loyalist fight led to an adjournment April 14. The House met again June 7 and adjourned the following day to permit consultations with G. F. Powell, agent of Major C. H. Douglas who was arriving from England. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

Twenty-eight In Siberia Executed

Total of Men Shot For Wrecking Amur Railroad Mounts to Ninety-four

MOSCOW — Twenty-eight persons have been convicted and executed at Svobodny, in the Soviet far east, for wrecking the Amur Railroad, it became known today.

The charges against these alleged "wreckers" were the same as those made in three previous trials in the Far East, at Svobodny and at Khabarovsk.

These trials already had resulted in 66 executions. All the condemned were accused of being participants in a Trotskyist, Japanese spy and terror organization which allegedly acted along the Amur railroad.

News of the newest Far Eastern executions came on the heels of the conviction and shooting of eight red army generals. They were executed Saturday for treason, accused of betraying their country to Nazi Germany. This case apparently had no direct connection with the Far

Irish Election Set For July 1

DUBLIN—The Irish Free State elections were set today for July 1. The date was announced after the Dail Eireann had adopted the new Irish constitution on a recorded vote of 62 to 48. The Dail was dissolved and it was announced the Parliament elected July 1 would assemble on July 21.

Logging Camps To Close For Month

Thirty-day Holiday Planned As High Freight Rates Reduce Demand

Major logging operations on Vancouver Island and the mainland coast will close down for the month of July, it was reported here today.

Thirty large camps and about 10,000 working loggers will be affected by the closure which is due to a falling off in market demands and an accumulation of fir and cedar logs, according to logging officials.

The camps will close from July 1, it is stated. Whether they will remain closed more than one month depends on the market.

The sharp rise in shipping rates to the United Kingdom is a major factor in the situation, headquarters of the B.C. Loggers' Association confirmed. The rates have gone so high that United Kingdom orders have dwindled off to a great extent. The business with the United Kingdom has been the mainstay of the logging operations for the last three years.

Ocean rates on lumber have gone up roughly 100 per cent since last fall due chiefly to shortage of bottoms.

The cedar trade with the United States is limited by quota and logging operators state they are uncertain of the amount that will be taken during the last half of the year. They already have large stocks on hand.

Treasury Bills Sold By Ottawa

OTTAWA — The Bank of Canada today accepted tenders for $25,000,000 in Dominion of Canada treasury bills, due Sept. 15, 1937, the average discount price being 99.83819, and the average yield .643 per cent.

Apprenticeship Plan Widened

The scope of the British Columbia Apprenticeship Act was widened today to take in the vocations of lithographing and machine work. This brings to thirteen the number of trades covered by the act. Lithographing was specified as covering artists, camera work, plate-making, press and press feeding.

In Edmonton today as the Legislature resumed its session was G. F. Powell (right), personal representative of Major C. H. Douglas sent from England on the invitation of the Social Credit Planning Board of Alberta, composed of five M.P.P.'s, whose chairman is G. L. MacLachlan (left).

First Strawberries Roll East Tomorrow

Recent Rain Means Thousands of Dollars to Island Growers

The first carload of island strawberries will roll eastward to the prairies tomorrow, according to word received from Saanich this morning.

A survey of producing areas shows that the last few days have meant thousands of dollars to island growers. The rain has filled out the berries. If the weather continues dull and there is not much sunshine, the season will be lengthened by a week or so.

Strawberry production on the island which began with a few crates at the beginning of last week has been stepped up so rapidly that Saanich plantations over-supplied the Victoria market on Saturday to the extent of 500 crates.

These crates were sidetracked to cold storage and with 300 more will make up the first carload—seven tons—of ripe, red fruit to roll eastward tomorrow.

"The prairies are hungry for berries," Captain E. Livesey, manager of the Saanich Fruit-growers' Association, said this morning. "Prices are fair."

TONS OF BERRIES
At the peak of the season, 17 tons of strawberries are taken off the lower island plantations every day. Between one and two carloads a day are shipped to the prairies.

Today 800 crates or about seven tons of fresh fruit were picked. Tomorrow the island production will amount to 1,000 crates, increasing each day till the peak is reached.

Though no rules have been laid down by the Saanich Fruit-growers' Association, Captain Livesey says the jumble pack is finding favor with the strawberry-eating public.

The old way of packing strawberries was to face the boxes, in other words, to squeeze the largest on top and fill the rest of the box with smaller ones.

The jumble pack means that the grade of berries will be the same throughout the box. The berries will be "jumbled in."

Earhart Plane On Way to India

MASSAWA, Eritrea—Amelia Earhart and Capt. F. J. Noonan, flying around the world, hopped off at 7.30 a.m. today (8.30 Sunday evening, P.S.T.), for Assab, Eritrea, en route to Aden, at the southwestern tip of Arabia.

The pilot said they would attempt to fly non-stop to Karachi, India, if weather conditions were good.

The plane landed here at 2.40 p.m. Sunday from Khartoum, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

T.B. CASES TO BE CONFINED

Hospitalization Ordered When in Contagious Stage

Adding fresh powers in its drive to stamp out tuberculosis, the British Columbia Government today passed an order compelling people with the disease in a contagious stage to enter a hospital or an institution.

The new regulation reads: "That any person found with tuberculosis in an infectious or contagious stage, who should refuse to be confined in a hospital or building provided for quarantine or isolation purposes, may be apprehended and may be detained in such institution."

Another order gives health officers and local health boards instructions to use all possible care in preventing the spread of infectious or contagious diseases dangerous to the public health.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, explained that all cases coming under the new tuberculosis regulation would be subject to examination by the Tuberculosis Control Board under Dr. W. H. Hatfield. A patient who it was thought might have to be confined would be thoroughly examined by the board's experts and by the medical health officer and certified as being in an advanced stage of tuberculosis and extremely dangerous to public health.

In effect, said Dr. Weir, tuberculosis was being placed on a par with smallpox and other highly infectious diseases.

Latest government figures show 592 deaths were due to tuberculosis in British Columbia last year. There were 1,393 new cases reported, bringing to 4,157 the total of known cases in the province.

Canadians May Hear Jardine

English Vicar Who Married Windsor's Resigning; to Lecture in U.S.

DARLINGTON, Eng.—Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, who performed the Duke of Windsor's religious wedding ceremony, announced today following his resignation of his parish here he hoped to lecture for two months in the United States.

While plans were indefinite it was said to be possible that Mr. Jardine would include Canada in his itinerary.

He described his intended trip as a combined holiday and lecture tour. Presumably he will talk about why he performed the ceremony at Monte Carlo. He hopes to leave for the United States shortly.

Mr. Jardine, making a statement to his congregation during his sermon yesterday evening, insisted his resignation as vicar of St. Paul's here had nothing to do with the divorce.

ON WAY OUT
Discovery of the tools led the rescuers to theorize Carr finished his work at the pit-bottom, started to go out, and then for some reason laid his implements down and returned to the deep end of the slope, where the water caught him.

Carr was the last of the five men in the flood to be accounted for. The bodies of Nelson Shepherd and his nephew, Joe Shepherd, were recovered shortly after John Senini and Louis Tognello had been rescued from a dead-end crosscut where they were forced when the water burst on them.

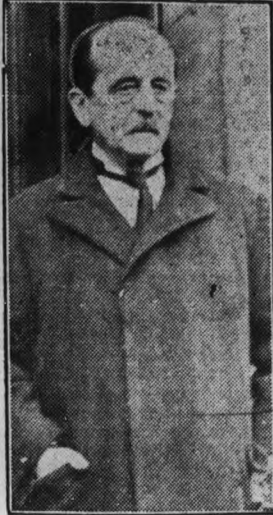

Senini today was back with the family. He was discharged late Saturday from the hospital, where Tognello remained recuperating from severe shock.

Tognello was seriously affected by his ten hours of entombment while pump crews drained the water that shut them off from the pit-head.

MINE BUILDINGS BURN

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man.—Fire destroyed four buildings at the Gurney mine in this Flin Flon district today. The blaze was believed to have started in the power house. None of the 150 men employed at the mine was injured.

Critically Ill

SIR JAMES BARRIE

LONDON (CP)—Sir James Barrie, famous playwright and creator of "Peter Pan," who is gravely ill in a London nursing home, today was visited by Lord Horder, physician-in-ordinary to the King. Sir James, seventy-seven years of age, is suffering from an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

After his visit Lord Horder issued the following bulletin: "There has been some further improvement in Sir James Barrie's condition."

Thousands in East Quit Coal Pits As Steel Dispute Continues

JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—Thousands of miners in diggings owned by independent steel corporations walked out today in a new move of the Committee for Industrial Organization to try to force the steel companies to sign labor contracts.

John L. Lewis, C.I.O. chairman, ordered 10,000 workers in seventeen "captive" mines owned by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company to stay out of the mines today.

Officials of United Mine Workers of America said virtually every one of the mines, located in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, was shut.

Steel-helmeted state troopers trod a seven-mile beat of the strike-beset Cambria works of Bethlehem Steel Corporation in Johnstown, but it was quiet after a violent flurry yesterday when five men were slightly injured.

The Canton, Ohio, Federation of Labor, representing 15,000 varied craftsmen in the city, threatened to call them all away from their jobs if picket lines at the Republic Steel Corporation's plants there were broken.

Roosevelt Court Bill Is Scored

Senate Committee in Blistering Language Recommends Rejection

WASHINGTON — The Senate judiciary committee recommended rejection of President Roosevelt's court reorganization bill in blistering language today, branding it "a needless, futile, and utterly dangerous abandonment of constitutional principle."

"It should be so emphatically rejected its parallel will never again be presented to the free people of America," said the report, signed by seven Democrats and three Republicans.

The 10,000-word report echoed virtually all the objections raised to the measure in seven weeks of hearings.

It said the bill would not accomplish its purpose, would destroy the independence of the judiciary, and would make the government "one of men rather than one of law."

Gen. Miaja Calls on All Civilians to Withdraw From Spanish Loyalist City; Insurgent Planes Drop Pamphlets Saying Tens of Thousands of Soldiers Are About to Launch "Last Assault" on Former Capital

Insurgents in Outskirts of North Spain City; Planes Rake Streets

AT BILBAO'S OUTSKIRTS
—The insurgent advance guard pressed on the heels of retreating Basques into the outskirts of long-beleaguered Bilbao today and began raking the streets with rifle fire from the scattered houses which they occupied.

Generalissimo Franco's shock troops cracked in the Basque capital's "iron ring" defences, swarmed over the pine-covered hillsides two hours before sunset Sunday, and carried their red and yellow flag to the city's edge.

Franco was in personal command of the final stage of the campaign planned by his dead aide, Gen. Emilio Mola, whose death in an airplane crash eleven days ago had momentarily slowed up the months-old drive to reduce the northern port, one of Spain's greatest industrial cities.

Mop-up troops were slowly working their way forward through the industrial outskirts of the suburban centres of Zazama, Bermudeo and Dreo. The morale of the Basques was apparently breaking and their capital seemingly being given up for lost.

The three days of this precise drive placed Franco's crack

Woods Hunted For Missing Woman

Hundred Men Beat Area On Long Island, Seeking Mrs. W. H. Parsons

STONY BROOK, N.Y. — A force of 100 searchers mobilized to beat the brush in the vicinity of the home of Wm. H. Parsons today in an effort to unearth some clue to the disappearance of his wife, a society matron and heiress.

"The present state of the investigation justifies the search," Earl J. Connelly, the federal agent in charge of the government's inquiry, said in announcing the hunt.

He added: "It will be continued until we are satisfied we have made a thorough search in an effort to gain the objectives we have in mind."

That was as far as he would go in defining the purpose of the newest move to solve the disappearance last Wednesday of Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, who dropped from sight shortly before a ransom demand for $25,000 was found.

The area being searched was described as "fairly wild," dotted with a few cultivated fields, but abounding with woods and tangled undergrowth.

Tomorrow morning the task will be renewed—unless the clues sought are discovered today.

"What do you hope to find?" Connelly was asked.

"This is for observation purposes," he replied.

"The fact that we are making the search," he supplemented, "does not commit the Department of Justice to any specific theory."

The mystery of Mrs. Parsons' disappearance deepened as law forces weighed murder and kid-

MADRID (CP—Havas) — Gen. Jose Miaja tonight ordered immediate evacuation of the civilian population of Madrid.

Gen. Miaja is commander-in-chief of the government forces in Spain.

The evacuation by civilians of the long-besieged city was ordered at about the same time insurgent planes dropped hundreds of pamphlets on the Guadarrama front proclaiming a forthcoming "last assault" against Madrid by tens of thousands of troops.

NEW ATTACKS
MADRID (AP) — Government commanders sent troops and aircraft into action today to relieve insurgent pressure on besieged Bilbao, on the Bay of Biscay front.

While Generalissimo Francisco Franco maintained his drive against the Basque capital, the Madrid-Valencia forces went into action above Cordoba, in southern Spain, and along the Aragon front to the northeast.

Government commanders plainly hoped these thrusts at the backdoors of insurgent territory would force withdrawal of some of the attacking power from the Bilbao front.

In addition to Bilbao, two other of Spain's chief cities were under siege. Insurgents were attempting to capture Madrid as well as the Basque capital. Loyal Asturian miners, whose dynamite exploits have been among the prominent features of the war, continued their drive against insurgent-held Oviedo, west of Bilbao and near the Biscay coast.

If federal, state, or local investigators had made any real progress since the $25,000 ransom note was found Wednesday night, they were keeping it secret.

Confusion was added to the case by several reports concerning the movements of Mrs. Parsons about the time of her disappearance from her home near here, which police said conflicted with the story told by Mrs. Anna Kupryanova, Russian-born woman who lived with the Parsons.

SEATTLE — For the third straight day all Western Union offices in Seattle remained closed today, with no arrangements yet made for negotiations between opposing factions in the strike of 110 messenger boys which forced the shutdown. The strikers, members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, are asking increased wages and union recognition.

In an editorial under the heading "Terror in the U.S.S.R." the Labor Party organ declared:

"This is particularly true for those who are friends of the Soviet Union, who recognize not only the substantial strides in economic development within their own boundaries, but also the great services she has given and the greater services she can yet give to the cause of world peace."

"But today all that is good in Soviet Russia is shadowed by the dark cloud of a reign of terror not approached anywhere except in Fascist countries, and not exceeded there. For that reign of terror one can find no adequate explanation, and certainly no adequate justification in any official statement."

MEXICO CITY.—Execution of eight Soviet army leaders, marks the beginning of the end of the Stalin dictatorship," Leon Trotsky, exiled Bolshevik leader predicted today.

Trotsky, founder of the red army declared that "after decapitating the party and the Soviet structure, Stalin now has decapitated the army."

Trotsky paid tribute to the military knowledge of all the victims and said they were the most popular of all Soviet military leaders.

Charges of espionage for a "fascist state" for which the Soviet generals were convicted and executed were described by "Trotsky as 'untrue and unworthy of denial.'"

The Premier said he hoped the adjourned session would be short "so that our time can be given to the work of reaching our objective."

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng.—L. D. Byrne, a lieutenant of Major C. H. Douglas and prominent in the Social Credit movement for years, is voyaging to Canada.

He will join G. F. Powell, who has been associated with Major Douglas for nineteen years and who is now in Edmonton, in an investigation of Social Credit in Alberta. Mr. Douglas himself will visit the province later if their report convinces him such a trip is warranted.

"I am afraid party politics have entered into the matter too much in Alberta and that is why the scheme has fared so disastrously in Alberta so far," Byrne said before sailing Saturday aboard the liner Ausonia.

"Actually Social Credit is quite simple to understand and once it is adopted it must automatically mean more freedom and better conditions for every man, woman and child."

Byrne is well known as an economist. In 1933 he was a member of the Southampton Chamber of Commerce committee which inquired into the world's economic condition.

The committee brought down a report embodying many of the principles advocated by Douglas.

Resolutions to Be Made Public at Closing Session
in London Tomorrow

LONDON.—Chief delegates to the Imperial Conference spent today giving last touches to the report they will present at the closing plenary session tomorrow.

The report will cover their discussions on foreign affairs and Empire defence. It is expected the report will be general in character.

This morning a message was read from Lady Borden, thanking the conference for its sympathy in the death of her husband, Sir Robert Borden.

Subsequently Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Justice, submitted a report on the nationality of married women, which was approved.

After the conference rises the governments of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and New Zealand will continue consideration of plans to meet the competition of United States subsidized shipping on the Pacific.

troops in a close semi-circle about the city. Only to the north, on the Bay of Biscay side, and on the west was there a possibility of escape for the city's teeming thousands of hungry inhabitants.

ROADS CROWDED

Many of Bilbao's refugee-swollen population of 300,000 were reported by scouts of the advance guard to be streaming westward. The roads were said to be jammed with refugees again seeking a haven.

Some officers expected the insurgent banner to fly from the Basque capital by nightfall.

More than 1,000 prisoners were taken in yesterday's operations, including high commanders of the last line of fortifications which the insurgents now have made their first offensive line.

BOMBED BY PLANES

BILBAO, Spain — Low-flying insurgent planes from the besieging forces that have pressed into Bilbao's edges raided the centre of this Basque capital in mid-morning today.

The people fled for shelter as the planes dived and opened fire with their machine guns.

Defence anti-aircraft guns pumped shells into the sky. Heavy bombing operations over this tightly-hemmed-in area made evacuation of the wounded a grave problem.

The road northwest to Santander was under heavy attack from the air. That was virtually the only means of escape by land for the Bilbao population.

In the roadstead of the port at the mouth of the Nervion River where it forms an estuary of the Bay of Biscay, British and French destroyers were said to be ready to evacuate President Jose Antonio Aguirre and other members of the government if it should become necessary.

STOICISM DISPLAYED

On the whole, however, Bilbao was stoical in the face of the constant attacks from the sky.

Crouched in makeshift refuges, civilians heard bullets spatter against walls and in streets—determined to hold out to the last.

The Basque government of President Aguirre, steadfast ally of the central Spanish government, denied reports some of its members had fled to Santander. No surrender is contemplated, Basque officials said.

From the battle front at the edge of the city there were Basque reports of a stiff counter-attack that resulted in Basque capture of a mountain near Fica. That is about five miles northeast of Bilbao, at a point where insurgents had cracked the "iron ring" of outer defences of the regional capital.

GREAT PRESSURE

The Basques declared they had forced back one wedge which the insurgents had driven through the "iron ring." But they admitted there was terrific pressure against them in the Zamudio sector, four miles northeast of Bilbao.

The point in the defences at which the insurgents have made their deepest dent apparently was Santa Marina, not far east of Bilbao.

"HOUSE BY HOUSE"
BAYONNE, France.—Four Bilbao government officials came here today to confer with Basque representatives in France.

The Basques, said sailors who brought the four here in a small boat, are determined to resist the insurgents "quarter by quarter, house by house—with the same determination that has kept Madrid in government hands."

CHICAGO.—Van A. Bittner, regional director of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, said today steps had been taken to stop the coal supply to all strike-bound steel plants. Mine strikes would follow if any shipments were made, he said.

He predicted 600,000 United Mine Workers of the United States might be affected by Saturday.

PLANT REOPENED

MONROE, Mich.—The strike-troubled plant of the Newton Steel Company resumed operations today unmoled.

No pickets were on hand. Monroe officials, however, after a tumultuous mass meeting yesterday marked by an assertion by Van A. Bittner, Chicago C.I.O. organizer, that pickets would return, took no chances.

Elaborate barricade systems were established around the Newton plant, a subsidiary of the Republic Steel Corporation. The trouble at Newton involves demands for a signed labor contract, refused by Republic.

Six hundred workers entered the plant. At the same time, a conference of city officials and civic leaders was arranged. It was believed plans for "peaceful picketing" might be discussed.

Monroe citizens, aroused to grim, fighting pitch, prevented any unauthorized person from approaching the Newton plant.

ANDERSON, Ind.—Street rioting between union and non-union automobile workers, climaxed by a sudden blast from a shotgun in the hands of an unnamed man, left nine men wounded and an undetermined number of others injured here today.

Within a few hours, police arrested nine men, including six of the gunfire victims, but later released them on their own recognizance after lengthy questioning.

None of the men struck by shotgun slugs Sunday was wounded seriously and all were released from a local hospital after receiving treatment.

City officials of Anderson, which was gripped by martial law for eleven days in February after a similar disorder, hastily conferred in an effort to prevent further disturbances.

CANADA PRESS TRIBUTE PAID

Aberhart Criticism of Newspapers Answered in Winnipeg Broadcast

WINNIPEG (CP)—Refutation of criticisms of Canadian newspapers by Premier William Aberhart of Alberta was given Saturday evening by W. L. MacTavish, vice-president and editor-in-chief of The Winnipeg Tribune, in an address on "Our Heritage of Liberty" over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation system.

Only one newspaper in Canada came under Mr. Aberhart's charge that "most newspapers are subservient to local political machines and color their news items," said Mr. MacTavish. That newspaper, he said, was in Alberta "under what may be described as the quasi-ownership of the party led by Mr. Aberhart himself."

Mr. MacTavish declared Premier Aberhart's charge that advertisers supplied the money with which newspapers were financed and thus gained power to suppress news and to direct policies of the papers was "wholly or almost wholly unfounded." A newspaper operated in this way would soon become of no value to its owners, advertisers or anyone else, he said.

"The public is amazingly quick to sense honesty or dishonesty of purpose in its newspapers," said Mr. MacTavish. "Public men, politicians, may fool the public for a time, but not newspapers. The demagogue in public affairs would be eliminated speedily if his only means of appealing to the public were through the printed word, read in the quiet and privacy of the home."

Mr. MacTavish said he did not mean to convey the opinion that every newspaper was honest and straightforward on all occasions, nor that unintelligent advertisers have never wielded or attempted to wield "a big stick." "But I do say that any newspaper that is not fundamentally honest, or any newspaper that is subservient to its advertisers, is headed definitely for the bonfire," he said.

"I felt a younger vicar was needed in this parish," said the "poor man's parson," who is about fifty.

"I intended to resign in any case this year. I am resigning only from this 'living' (pastorate), not from the Church of England."

"I have received no communication from church authorities regarding my action in going to the Chateau de Candé."

The Bishop of Durham, Rt. Rev. Herbert Henson, announced he had received the resignation of Mr. Jardine, but made no comment.

IN PARISH SINCE 1927

Mr. Jardine, vicar of St. Paul's for some years, had remained in obscurity until two days before the marriage of the former King and Mrs. Wallis Warfield, in France, when he appeared at the Chateau de Candé and announced he would perform the church rite for the couple.

On his return from the Continent he indicated he had the Duke of Windsor's promise of support against any attempt to discipline him. This gave rise to reports the Duke might make him his personal chaplain. Mr. Jardine at the time declined to comment on this.

At Noetch, Austria, associates of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor said they were surprised to hear of the resignation.

HIS LUMBAGO WENT IN TWO WEEKS

Never Felt Better
In His Life

Though he tried many so-called remedies, this man continued to suffer with lumbago for years. It troubled him, in fact, until he found the right remedy, Kruschen Salts. These are his own words:—

"I would like to tell you of the benefit I derived from taking Kruschen Salts. For some years past I have been a sufferer from lumbago. I tried no end of other remedies, but got no relief whatever until one day I saw Kruschen advertised and thought I would give it a trial. I did, and to my surprise the lumbago left me after taking Kruschen for a fortnight. I am now taking it regularly every day and never felt better in my life."—W.K. Kruschen is a combination of mineral salts which assist in stimulating your liver, kidneys and digestive tract to healthy, regular activity. If you could see how Kruschen dissolves away uric acid deposits, you would agree that the Kruschen treatment should bring relief in cases of lumbago.

TORONTO DEATH

TORONTO—Leonard G. Martin, forty, Ontario manager for The Montreal Gazette, died suddenly at his home here Sunday night. He had been connected with the newspaper for eighteen years.

Paper Workers Draft Requests

POWELL RIVER, B.C. — The American Federation of Labor claims close to 1,400 of British Columbia's paper mill workers in its ranks.

Harvey H. White of Everett, Wash., A.F. of L. organizer for the Northwest, estimated the number Sunday, after announcing 265 workers at the Port Mellon Operating Company at Port Mellon, B.C., in this Howe Sound district, had become local 297 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, an affiliate of the A.F. of L.

Previously 1,300 employees at the Powell River Company had joined the brotherhood. White said plans were under way to organize pulp and paper workers at three other British Columbia points, Port Alice, Ocean Falls and Woodfibre.

Demand would not be made until all five locals were organized, White said. Then, he added, they would probably seek the 62½ cents an hour basic wage rate in force in mills of the United States Pacific northwest.

Relief Grants On Lower Scale

OTTAWA—Back from a visit to the Maritime provinces, Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, is putting the finishing touches to arrangements for unemployment relief grants to the provinces. Agreements with all provinces have now been negotiated and in a few days the federal minister is expected to make a statement on the unemployment and relief grants.

Considerable reductions in the grants are being made, but the exact method of applying the reductions in view of varying conditions in different provinces has not been disclosed.

Four Movie Plays Barred From Italy

ROME — Italy's fight against "British propaganda" has extended to United States motion pictures.

The government's motion picture bureau ordered four United States - made films withdrawn from exhibition in Italy on the ground they were "British propaganda." They were "The Charge of the Light Brigade," "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "Lloyds of London" and "Clive of India."

The order came late as some of the pictures already have been widely shown here.

Woman Struck By Motor Car Dies

PORTLAND, Ore. — Mrs. Stella McMillan, about fifty, of Vancouver, B.C., died in hospital here late Sunday from injuries suffered when struck by an automobile while crossing a suburban street.

The body was identified several hours after death through a receipt for a "situation wanted" advertisement.

Mrs. Gladys Edith Hill, twenty-six, alleged driver of the automobile, was held by Oregon state police.

Mrs. McMillan came to Portland last October.

"Bat Wing" Man Uses Parachute

TACOMA, Wash. — Tommy Thompson, who spun dizzily 1,000 feet through the sky when his metal "bat wings" failed, laughed off the experience today, though his performance chilled thousands of spectators at an aerial circus here at the week-end.

Leaping from an airplane 8,000 feet up, the Seattle "bat man" found himself in trouble and finally resorted to his parachute to make a safe landing.

PRINCE RUPERT PUBLISHER DIES

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. — S. D. MacDonald, part owner of the newspaper Evening Empire, died in the hospital early Sunday. He recently underwent an operation and had been in ill-health for some time.

Mr. MacDonald was thirty-five years old and had resided here for more than twenty-five years. He was president of the Trades and Labor Council for many years, and was a director on the Prince Rupert hospital board at the time of his death.

He had also served a number of years as alderman.

Harold MacDonald of Vernon, B.C., is a son.

Boy of Four At Home Starved

STOKE-ON-TRENT, Eng. — The body of four-year-old Joseph Bailey was found today in the outhouse, where he had starved to death only fifty yards from his home while his parents and police searched frantically for a week.

The door slammed behind the lad when he went into the outhouse to play. The door catch, four-and-a-half feet from the ground, was too high for Joseph to reach and he died, his cries for help unheard.

Only 5 per cent of Britain is forest today.

GYROPLANE IS NEWEST IN AIR

British Experts Say Machine May Revolutionize Aviation

FELTHAM, Eng. — A new type of aircraft, known as the Hafner gyroplane, has so impressed British aviation experts they are predicting it may revolutionize construction of heavier than air machines.

The outstanding feature of the gyroplane, which resembles somewhat the autogyro, is its controllability at slow speeds and absence of forward run when taking off.

During a demonstration here the craft seemed to soar without effort in a towering climb. It has speed range in level flight from 12 miles to 120 miles an hour and a rate of climb at sea level of 1,200 feet a minute.

In the air the gyroplane has been subjected to manoeuvres of every description and, according to authorities, emerged with astonishing success.

Africa to Have Bomber Squadron

Union Defence Scheme Calls For Aid of Plane Clubs

PRETORIA — A heavy bomber squadron, capable of immediate mobilization in time of war or other emergency, is to be added to the South African active citizen air force.

The defence department does not intend to purchase special machines for this purpose, it is understood, but will draw the necessary aircraft from the South African airways, whose machines would be admirably suited, when required.

The government has made arrangements with certain light airplane clubs for suitable machines in their possession for similar use.

A Fine Present for Victoria
On Her 75th Birthday

THAT PROGRESSIVE AND AMBITIOUS Victoria organization, the Gyro Club, faithful to its promise of a few months ago, began a campaign today to raise $80,000 to construct an arena in this city suitable for use for many purposes—ice hockey, conventions, basketball, and what not.

The club has set its mind on $10 unit subscriptions, and, of course, as many $10 units as the individual subscriber may care to take. This method of financing furnishes a unique opportunity in which all who really want such an establishment for this capital city of British Columbia may share. There ought to be no difficulty in raising the necessary funds.

It is not too much to suggest, perhaps, that not a few of our public-spirited citizens will come forward with a substantial lump sum. Such donations as they may feel inclined to make will bring them ample satisfaction in the knowledge that they have made still another contribution to the well-being of the community in which they live.

Be it noted that every $10 unit taken will insure for its owner certain privileges of no mean character. Thus The Times hopes there will be an adequate response to the appeal which now is being made to the citizens of this community—a community about to celebrate its seventy-fifth birthday.

What a fine birthday present a real, up-to-date arena would be!

Finely Phrased

NOW THAT ALL THE EXCITEMENT and the deep significance of the Coronation ceremonies have given place to orderly routine, and visiting statesmen to London already are wending their way homeward, it is worth pondering some extracts from Canada's address to His Majesty King George VI as presented by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

We have in mind particularly a part of the address which furnished a striking contrast in the form of government which British peoples enjoy with that of Italy, Germany, and Russia. We quote:

Since your accession, we have not failed to recognize, in your Majesty's public utterances, the assertion of those principles under which the prerogatives and powers of government, vested in your person, are held and exercised only according to law and custom sanctioned by general consent. Justice, civil liberty, and ordered freedom, thus secured, constitute a most precious heritage. These time-honored principles, permeating the relations of your peoples and their homelands one with another, have served to create a community of free states, yet responsible for their own destinies, yet resolved to conserve their common inheritance as one of the treasures of mankind. The solemn form and character of Your Majesty's Coronation, comprehending both the old and the new, will, we believe, afford a more vivid sense of the meaning and value of the Crown, thereby strengthening the bonds of mutual trust and affection between the sovereign and his peoples.

The following touching reference to Queen Elizabeth is a fine summing up of the feelings of all British peoples—all who cherish those fine attributes of family life to which she is devoted:

To Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth we desire also to express our sentiments of loyalty and devotion. We rejoice that the great responsibilities of the throne are shared by one who already holds a place in the affection of your peoples, and whose example fosters those simple and homely virtues which beautify character and enrich family life. The companionship in service thus enjoyed, while ensuring your personal happiness, will afford to Your Majesty support and strength in the discharge of your public duties.

Canada's address ended on this inspiring note: "Through this stormy and baffling era in human affairs, the Throne has remained broad-based upon the people's will. The Crown, symbolizing the unity and the free association of the nations of the British Commonwealth, continues to embody the principles of government which they hold most sacred, and their common attachment to the ideals of freedom and of peace. We pray that under Divine blessing and guidance, the foundations of constitutional government may be firmly maintained and that Your Majesty may be vouchsafed strength and wisdom commensurate with your exalted and exacting task."

Hay Fever, Civilization's
By-product

THOSE UNFORTUNATE PERSONS who sneeze and sniffle their way through the season, unless medical treatment or vacation resorts can give them relief from hay fever, are paying the price of civilization. This view of a miserable ailment is presented by Dr. R. P. Wodehouse, scientific director of the Arlington Chemical Company.

An enormous increase in ragweed and certain other hay fever-causing plants is a by-product of our modern civilization which has disturbed the soil and its natural balance of vegetation, Dr. Wodehouse points out. Ragweed plants were scarce before civilization came along to plough up large sections of land, dig ditches for sewers, level off stretches for roads and otherwise disturb the vegetation. Other plants cause hay fever, but ragweed causes more than half the cases of this ailment which afflicts three out of every hundred persons.

Hay fever belongs in the group of diseases called allergies. An allergy is an extreme sensitiveness to some particular substance, such as pollen, which is not generally irritating. The hay fever patient and others who suffer from allergies, however, are not invariably abnormal, Dr. Wodehouse suggests. It is their environment which is abnormal. Dr. Wodehouse points out that allergy is seldom evident with respect to those things old in the experience of the human race. Pine trees, for instance, produce far greater quantities of pollen than ragweed plants, but no one seems to get hay fever from pine pollen. In fact, some of the hay-fever resorts are in the midst of or surrounded by pine forests.

"The human race," he says, "must certainly have been cradled in an atmosphere of pine pollen and has ever since been subjected to annual exposure to it. We are all immune to pine pollen and to a certain extent to the pollen of most of our deciduous forest trees."

Ragweeds cannot grow in competition with other plants, but when the ground is disturbed for any reason, the ragweed is the first to take possession of the newly denuded ground. Civilization has made a ragweed paradise of this continent, and the "end is not yet in sight for the hay fever sufferer."

Ralph Guldahl

morning, at the picturesque links of the Victoria Golf Club at Oak Bay, a tall, fine-looking young chap, dressed in a neat grey shirt and grey slacks, a linen cap adorning his ample thatch, played a practice round preliminary to the tournament of the "great" in goldom. His name was Ralph Guldahl. He impressed the three or four who walked round with him and a playing partner from New York as a fine type of golfer, not only for his ease of swing and his long and accurate shots, but, perhaps, more important still, his imperturbability, a temperament possessed by not too many devotees of the Royal and Ancient pastime.

There is, however, a story about Ralph Guldahl which appeared in The Saturday Evening Post a week or so ago which shed a good deal of light on the fortunes, or, rather, misfortunes, of this twenty-five-year-old Chicago free-lance professional. Only a little more than a year ago he was so "up against it" that a friend had to advance the funds to get his clubs "out of hock." Well, he now can afford to forget his misfortunes, for in the intervening months funds have been rolling Ralph Guldahl's way. In every tournament he has played since last June he has been well up in the money. And last Saturday, at Birmingham, Mich., he set an all-time record for the United States Open grueling test of seventy-two holes with a total of 281—one stroke better than Tony Manero's record last year—to win that coveted trophy. Eight thousand spectators cheered Guldahl—and well they might.

Seven Sensible Nations

WHILE THE "GREAT" POWERS are concentrated on trying to direct the course of Europe or haggling over the spoils of other people's wars, a group of seven smaller European nations is showing one avenue to prosperity and peace.

These seven nations, comprising the Oslo conference, have just ended talks which resulted in greatly enlarged freedom of trade among themselves. Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, users of the quota system for imports, have agreed not to increase existing trade barriers and not to increase customs duties on products of the other signers. Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland, in return, promised not to adopt the quota system and not to increase duties on products of immediate interest to the other signers.

This is a happy divergence from the European attitude most familiar to us. As an approach to improved trade relations and better general understanding, it could well be used as a pattern for the guardian powers of the world.

In the race for military and naval force and glory and for power to dominate other peoples, these seven nations may be rated as secondary or insignificant factors. But we must admit they show the lead in civilized common-sense—and, from what current returns show, in the general well-being and prosperity of their own people.

Notes

Apparently, one secret of success is to write a book telling people how to be successful.

Another disadvantage of heavy armament is that it makes national honor so easy to hurt.

We sometimes fear our race is doomed and then observing its behavior in parts of Europe we almost do not care if it is.

Japan is reported camera crazy, with everyone taking pictures. Psychologists may explain it by saying that something in the Japanese mind "just clicked."

June is evidently a bad month for mosquitoes in the east as it is proving to be in the country districts here. A dispatch to The Toronto Star from Lindsay tells of men working in the bush who had to go to another place in order to get any sleep. A dispatch from Barrie declares a ball game was "called on account of mosquitoes." A Galt item says the little pests are biting furiously there. Hordes of them invaded the Humber valley at Toronto this week. The same weather conditions which have resulted in such tender greens and such lush grass have evidently been ideal for the mosquito nurseries in the swamps and in the cavestroughs.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

AT THE BATTLEFIELDS.

NEVER ON THE CORNERSTONE of one of the houses in this old French town are carved the words, "N'Oubliions jamais 1914." The people here will never forget 1914 and, to make sure of it, they have carved the words deep into the stone where everybody may see them and remember.

Yet it is hard to believe that only twenty-three years ago the German armies marched across this little bridge on their way to Paris, and on those hills yonder, green now with ripening oats and all foaming with the new leaves of the elm trees, the Battle of the Marne was fought. This sleepy old town, sprawled on either side of the river, seems to have forgotten all about it.

All the way down the battle line, along the Meuse and the Marne, it is the same—the old scars have all been covered over by the surging growth of this rich French soil. There is nothing left to recall those war years, except the little stone monument in every village, the shattered, headless figures on the sides of the vast cathedral in Rheims and a few ruined buildings here and there by the roadside. For two thousand years armies have marched back and forth across this border country, killing and burning, but always the growth of the soil covers their tracks again.

YANKEE

AT CHATEAU THIERRY, a lean Yankee, who fought here in the terrible July days of 1918, has married a French wife and settled down by the battlefield. He has charge of the square white American monument on the hill above the river and he does not think he will ever go back to the States again. He has never been home since the Armistice, and he guesses he is three-quarters French now.

Standing on the steps of the monument, he explains the battle—the Germans' last thrust westward, the deepening salient, the quick retreat. An American sailor boy, on leave from his ship, has come down to this national shrine, walking most of the way from Paris. He listens to the story of Chateau Thierry with sparkling eyes and then draws: "If we're crazy enough to get into another of these foreign wars, I'll desert."

In Belleau Woods the shallow trenches remain as the Germans left them in their retreat, but they are filling up with leaves now, and the shell scars on the trees are almost covered with new bark. The old French soldier who potters about here shows you with delight a German steel helmet with a neat hole through it and some hair still clinging to the sides. Ah, it is a long time ago now, he says.

QUIET EVENING

SO LONG AGO, that nobody talks about it any more. The aged waiter in this little hotel on the bank of the Marne had one cheek shot away in those early days when Joffre halted the march on Paris. He will tell you of the German advance here and how half this town was shelled into dust while its people fled, carrying what they could with them. But he doesn't like to talk of it. You have to drag it out of him.

Since then, a new generation has grown up here beside the river. On the bridge this evening old women in black dresses and spotted white bonnets and aprons stop to stroll in high-pitched voices. Boys and girls gossip in arm. Peasants come home from the fields, their wooden shoes clacking on the cobblestones. A team of fat horses tows a long, low-lying canal boat slowly up the river and a stout woman with a blue dress and brown, bare arms, sits on the long tiller, knitting. Her husband lolls on the deck, smoking a long black pipe.

Now that the holiday is over, the whole town takes its ease. On the tiny iron balconies at every window in the market square women are sitting, some with their babies on their knees. Their husbands stand in the doorways, smoking and yarning with their neighbors. In the middle of the square a little fountain plays by a bronze statue of a flying Cupid and little boys paddle in the water with bare feet. A few workmen, in their rough clothes, sit at little tables outside a cafe, sipping their sour wine slowly, so that it will last all evening.

THEY WATCH

THE WAR seems to be forgotten. But you can see the marks of it on the old women's faces—hard, lined, terrible faces, and tired eyes that saw children killed. And as dark comes and the whole village goes to bed promptly at 10 o'clock and the music of the gramophones stops, we hear a dull droning over to the southward. Presently an extra star floats in the sky and moves slowly northward and the black shape of a French military plane cuts across the moon. Then its light sinks down behind the forest, like a lonely firefly. On the still bridge there is a sudden clatter of hoofs and a detachment of French soldiers rides over in the moonlight.

France is still watching its border and the river which is its first line of defence. It has covered over the war scars and lives again in its old quiet, happy fashion, but it does not forget. "N'Oubliions jamais 1914." The words are cut deep into the stone.

LINES OF A FAMOUS ACTRESS

John Anderson in Town and Country. A famous and baldish gentleman was presented for the ninth time to Mrs. Patrick Campbell and expressed his annoyance at the fact that she never recognized him. So to this hairless gentleman Mrs. Campbell said, innocently and with voice suffused in tears of mortification, "I'm so sorry; I think it's because you do your hair differently." "I'm dreadfully sorry I said that," she explained to me with touching gentleness. "I wouldn't have done it for the world. I'm afraid I hurt the poor man's feelings. Imagine me not noticing that he had no hair!"

She paid a gracious and to my way of thinking extravagant tribute to another actress and after she had summarized the lady's talents, added, "It's too bad she doesn't dislike the gutter."

The Frustrate Censor

Bernard De Voto in Harper's Magazine

WHEN THE dictatorship of the proletariat has at last raised up a generation capable of creating the great society there will be no attempt to censor art, literature and entertainment. Prophecy does not reveal whether the race will be too strong to yield to temptation or whether the capacity to be tempted at will have been bred out of it; but one or the other reason will make censorship unnecessary. And that is just as well, for the only solution to the problem of censorship is to do away with it entirely. In these disheartening, premonitory stages of the unfolding plan the censor has the most futile job in the world.

In all history no effort to control literature or entertainment in the interest of morality has ever succeeded for very long. Cromwell has no sooner closed the theatres than the populace is sneaking up back alleys to attend illicit performances, and there has hardly been time to organize that service effectively before Charles II is on the throne, all London is crowding the reopened box offices, and the plays are bawdier than they ever were before.

IN OUR own time we have had twenty years of unceasing effort by the righteous to drive nudity from the stage and throughout those years nudity on the stage has steadily become more common. Twenty years ago a chorus without stockings was something of a sensation; today completely naked choruses are a commonplace in revues and restaurants, and the strip-tease act has spread from the burlesque and the honky-tonk to the most respectable theatres. Such organizations as the Society for the Suppression of Vice have labored just as vigorously to prohibit indecency in fiction. Today you can buy practically any novel they have ever proceeded against in practically any book store, and the sole result of their labor has been to confer popular successes on a number of books which, if they had not advertised them, would have perished in remainder sales.

It is only three years since a group of aghast clerics, backed by one of the most powerful church organizations and directly or indirectly encouraged by most other churches, undertook to purify the movies of indecency, immodesty, lubricity, salaciousness, concupiscence, violence, horror, cruelty, propaganda, levity and a miscellany of other evils. This was no bush-league effort but a powerful campaign by powerful people, backed by a threat of mass pressure so menacing that it scared the movie-makers into compliance with all the demands made on them. But when you enter a movie theatre today you perceive at once that the formidable effort has accomplished exactly nothing.

THE PUBLIC instinctively, or let us say by a sentiment as deep as consciousness and probably deeper, rejects the hypothesis that to witness a fictional representation on the screen is to be tempted or stimulated to action. Several years ago, when the cycle of gangster movies was at its apex, the censors demanded their suppression on the ground that they impel children, adolescents and weak-minded adults to rob banks and kidnap millionaires. The public accepted the risk and attended the gangster films in ecstatic multitudes.

We have not become a nation of criminals, the fashion has lapsed, and currently there is a cycle of movies which celebrate sweetness and light. On the theory that condemned the earlier cycle, this one should turn our children and weak-minded to wholesome self-sacrifice, heroism and austere virtue. The public seems willing to accept that risk too, and it is probably right. For no one has yet brought to the judgment bar of science any conclusive evidence that screen plays produce imitative behavior, and in the absence of evidence, the theory that they in fact reduce the psychological necessity for it is probably the better one.

NOT A COAL TOWN!

Howard Mitchell in The Financial News

Vancouver thinks of Nanaimo as a coal town. Nanaimo is beginning to resent the description. Nanaimo business men see their city as the transportation hub of all Vancouver Island; look upon old Victoria as a nice place to retire, unless one already lives in Nanaimo.

One business man supplied the following figures to the writer: In 1921 Nanaimo had a population of 9,088, of which 2,300 were men who worked in the coal mines.

In October, 1936, the city tallied 10,700 residents and about 900 to 1,000 men work in the coal mines.

In 1934 there were 1,202 persons on relief in Nanaimo, and in October, 1936, there were 540 being thus assisted.

Nanaimo's strident voice calling for taxes to exclude fuel oil from B.C. has been stifled. Why? Because Nanaimo now realizes that about 500 men in Nanaimo are getting their employment from industries which depend upon the importation of fuel oil or gasoline for successful operation. It is claimed that 52 per cent of B.C.'s oil and gasoline consumption is on Vancouver Island.

Nanaimo would not object at all to Vancouver Island being a separate province, but it would not want Victoria to run the province of Vancouver Island. It does 60 per cent of its purchasing business with Vancouver.

YOUTH BACK ICE ARENA

To the Editor:—The Victoria Gyro Club is to be congratulated on its foresight and courage for launching a campaign for a Victoria ice arena and auditorium.

Those directly concerned with the sports life of the city will need little reminder of the tremendous benefit such a Forum will be to the youth of our city. In addition to directly helping Victoria regain its former limelight on the hockey and other sports maps, this arena will make the people of Canada and the United States "Victoria Conscious" thus appreciably increasing our tourist revenue.

It will be catastrophic if this plan of the Victoria Gyro Club is not supported by every organization and individual in this city.

SUNDAY MORNING RACKET

To the Editor:—I wish to raise an emphatic protest against the infernal noise on Gorge Road starting about 4 o'clock Sunday morning created by the motorcyclists going out to their speed races on the Island Highway. Sunday mornings most people hope to get a little extra sleep, but to be awakened at an ungodly hour by those speed maniacs, for no good reason, makes it impossible to rest, let alone sleep. Most, if not all, the machines are roaring along without any mufflers, or with cut-outs open and you know what a din motorcycles make at any time. So imagine what they sound like running wide open.

Incidentally, why is it that motorcycles are allowed to travel our streets and highways at excessive speeds without any check on them, yet if a motorist drives his car at thirty-eight or forty miles an hour he is pinched? Gorge Road. W. M.

A SUMMER SUNRISE

P. Smith, 1935, in The Camosun

I stood beside the silver lake at dawn
In summer, while the grass was bathed in dew,
When, to my eager gaze, a dainty fawn,
Came down to drink, from out the bushes drew,
And up the shady bank so nimbly flew.

The flies above the cool, dark surface danced,
Across the lake a gentle zephyr blew,
When, o'er the trees, Apollo's white steeds pranced—
The glittering, glorious sun my sight entranced.

CONDEMNED FOR FAITHFULNESS

To the Editor:—In reference to the Boston bull terrier, condemned to death for biting a small boy who had dressed up in a bear skin and hugged the dog, it is a clear case, to my mind, of the little dog's conviction that a bear was attacking him and would his little master, and he was, though terribly frightened, determined to defend his little owner to the death. Wrought up by this, he continued to defend even after the removal of the bearskin. Many little dogs would not have had the courage to face a bear, but would have turned tail and fled—only wish he had—a great-hearted, faithful little animal. Boys will be boys. That is, will be thoughtless. We all learn by personal experience. I only hope this little terrier will be saved. Faithfulness until death is not so common as to be taken as a matter of course in dog or man. ALICE COLCLOUGH.

PUT A LIMIT ON THEM

From The Ottawa Journal.
Mr. Ramsay MacDonald refused a peerage because acceptance would have interfered with the political career of his son, Malcolm, now a member of the cabinet. The incident is a good argument for lifetime peerages.

Letters To The Editor

PRAISE FOR FRED SPENCER'S
RUSSIAN ARTICLES

To the Editor:—The articles on Russia appearing in your Saturday issues and which I understand are to be followed by subsequent articles, were to my mind very good. Mr. Spencer I feel has not exaggerated conditions in the land of the Soviets, for many of his observations are comparable with the impressions gathered by other competent observers who have toured Russia, and having no axe to grind came back with unbiased views.

I can quite understand Mr.
Thornley's opposition to this excellent article, for he of the Marxist mind refuses to see evil in many shady purges, etc., that have swept the length and breadth of U.S.S.R.

I for one would very much like

PROTEST CIVIL SERVICE
EXAMS

To the Editor:—Imperial Veterans' Association recently sent a protest to the Civil Service Commission at Ottawa, protesting the severity of the civil examination which ex-service men have to take before obtaining civil service positions. It was made known that it was over twenty years since these men received their education, and that the class of examination had no bearing upon the various classes of employment, for which the examinations were held.

The Imperials also ask for all local employers of labor to employ Victoria residents first before importing men from other towns.

THE CHURCHMAN'S SIDE

To the Editor:—Regarding the article in The Times on June 7, entitled: "The Cult of Intolerance," are there not two sides to this question? Why should churchmen be called intolerant simply because they refuse to countenance something that they honestly believe to be wrong? Up until the time of the Duke of Windor's abdication, he had shown little, if any, real interest in the Anglican church, and if his desire for a religious service, at his marriage was really sincere,
and not merely a desire to put one over the archbishops, he could have called upon any of the non-conformist churches. Surely, it was he who showed intolerance of other people's principles and beliefs when he sought to tempt some responsible anglican clergymen through their personal affection for him, to show disloyalty to their church!

Clergymen have no right to do for royalty what they refuse a lesser person. A church has a perfect right to decide what its attitude shall be to any question of morals. Those who differ—including the Duke—have other churches to turn to. If the Duke wished to remain a member of the Anglican church, I claim he should have kept his laws—otherwise left it. It seems that he wants to have his cake and eat it too.

I am not a member of the Anglican Church, nor am I opposed to divorce, when release has been sought after years of mental and physical suffering.
But there is a difference between this and simply using marriage as a stepping stone to social advancement.

Much as we may still love Edward, we must realize that there is now a determined, ambitious woman at his side, and if we Britons do not get our minds straight on this affair, we are going to have a major problem on our hands in the not too distant future. It seems to me there is enough trouble in the world without making more.

YOUR BODY'S
BIGGEST ORGAN

It has so many functions that, if unhealthy in action, many ills result.

Yes! It's your liver that affects your digestion, kidneys, blood, skin, muscles, intestines and certain glands—including reproductive glands. If it's sluggish you may suffer headaches, nausea, indigestion, constipation, backaches, yellow skin and other ills. So keep your liver active and healthy. Use Fruit-A-Tives, the famous remedy that contains extracts of fruits and herbs—that works with nature to stimulate the liver, the proper flow of bile. Fruit-A-Tives cleanses the entire system. Their tonic effects help bring new life and energy.
Start Fruit-A-Tives today. And be sure to get genuine "Fruit-A-Tives"—don't accept substitutes.

FRUIT-A-TIVES TABLETSTO SAVE DOG FROM EXECUTION

To the Editor:—In tonight's Times I read the court orders destruction of a little Boston bull puppy, eight months old, for biting a little boy. There are many dogs who would have done exactly the same as this little Boston bull under those circumstances, and I do hope that the owners will win their appeal.
The dog was not at large, he was in his own yard. By that he is entitled to a fair appeal. Dogs are not dependable if played with by strangers and I hope these little boys won't have their hearts broken by the loss of a pal.

I hope this appeal from me will come to the notice of our good friend, Miss Kitto. Let us see what we can do to save this little dog from destruction. Please give him one more chance in this world. I feel sure the owners will see no strangers play with him again. Trusting this appeal will not be in vain, and the little boys made happy again.

MRS. LILLIAN BILES.
2915 Admiral's Road, Saanich.SOLDIER VOTE IN ESQUIMALT

To the Editor:—Your correspondent, "Ex-soldier," seems to be shell-shocked. This is the only kind explanation of his wild statements.

We will answer his first wild accusation that one man orders
the army stationed at Esquimalt.
The soldiers vote as they please.
No direct or indirect methods are used to coerce them. Then about "Old Man Boozie"—there was no free liquor or treating on election day at barracks or prior to the election. The army was at their summer camp prior to the election and were brought in to vote, which is their inalienable right, and which they could not have exercised if they had not had transportation. The reason men in uniform were marched was because they were returning from burying a comrade; that also explains why they had arms.
Surely "Ex-soldier" (?) must know arms are not allowed in a polling booth. His call on Mr.
Pattullo is pathetic as, under the circumstances, there is nothing wrong. About fifteen years ago the federal Liberal government docked the soldiers' pay considerably, one of their first actions after they got into power. I think that explains 111 Conservative votes against 3 Liberal.

What does "Ex-soldier" (?)
want? Should all soldiers be shot who vote wrong? Be careful,
"Ex-soldier" (?), they may turn Liberal another time. You never can tell, but of one thing I'm sure,
the officers received no orders,
the men received no orders and all and sundry voted as they pleased.

Another thing I'll make a safe bet on, "Ex-soldier" (?) never was a soldier. A writer who does not sign his name is a sniper who is shooting from ambush because he is scared to come out.

HAD MEASLES THREE TIMES

To the Editor:—According to the press, the medical health officer for Saanich seems to be advocating a serum for measles.
In the good old days measles patients, properly nursed, kept warm and getting good ventilation, managed to recover without any bad after effects. One attack of a complaint—be it measles, smallpox or diphtheria, does not necessarily make one immune to an after attack. I, myself, have had measles three times.

One wonders what sort of serum the medical health officer is advocating, since there are at least three: (1) from the blood of adults; (2) from the blood of measles convalescents; (3) from the placenta, or afterbirth.
Should I fall a victim to a fourth attack, I should certainly decline to use any serum.

The Central Public Health Committee of the City of London (July, 1933) admits that 30 per cent of the children are naturally immune, and Stenson
Hooker, M.D., writing on August 1, 1936, states:

"So, assuming that 30 per cent of the children would never have had measles, it follows that if every child in the kingdom—as is advised and inculcated—we were immunized, the statistics relating to the inoculation would never show what immunity had been conferred! Readers should be acquainted with the fact that there are three methods of immunization, viz.: "active," "passive" and the "attenuated." It is admitted in this report that "active" immunization against measles is impossible, and there is very little hope of its ever being possible. "Passive" immunization is easy, but is so short-lived that it is only useful to tide over a child for a short period of unusual danger. In practice its use is limited to children's hospitals. The writer of this same report goes on to say that "attenu-ated" immunization does not prevent measles from coming on, but robs it of its danger, whilst conferring complete immunity to subsequent attacks. Bold, unwarranted statements, surely? What clinical evidence has been gathered together for saying such things? Who can say that complications would have been set up had it not been for such "immunization"? Again, what warrant is there for saying it confers "complete immunity from further attacks"? All hypothetical. Theorizing. Fantastic!"

As a matter of fact any tampering with the blood is dangerous.

According to a statement made at a meeting of the British Medical Association in 1932, French writers "recorded severe reactions following measles' serum injections."

TURNED OUT ON STREET

To the Editor:—On Superior Street at Oswego, James Bay district, where a row of old houses are being remodelled, an elderly man's household goods have been piled on the street for over two weeks.

He was evicted rightly and legally, of course, after efforts and concessions had been offered and refused by him.

It is, however, a sad reproach on either one or all of the municipal, relief, traffic and police heads that some solution could not be found, or does the whole of that machinery break down when confronted with such a problem.

Of course, it is nobody's business, and none of mine, but when legal machinery can be set up to save the life of a dog and public sympathy aroused, and quite rightly, too, surely some kindly action could be taken in this case.

Mrs. Alfred Woodworth and Miss Sara White, of St. Clair, Michigan, who came out to Victoria to attend the wedding of their nephew, Dr. George Hall, and who have been staying with their nephew and niece, Magistrate Henry C. Hall and Mrs. Hall, Craigdarroch, left this afternoon for their home in the east.

Lieut. T. E. Inglis of Singapore, who arrived in Victoria on the Empress of Canada on a short visit to his mother, Mrs. Algy Strang, Beach Drive, has left for the mainland on his way to England. Constable R. S. Inglis of Vancouver, who has also been visiting with his mother, Mrs. Strang, has returned to his home on the mainland.

Mrs. Bruce Carpenter of Hongkong, who arrived in Victoria a few weeks ago with her husband, Mr. Bruce Carpenter, and who has been staying in Victoria with her brother-in-law, Mr. Peter Wentworth Bell, Bowker Avenue, left yesterday for California to join her husband in San Francisco and to visit her sister, Mrs. Peter Wentworth Bell, who is visiting in California.

The Victoria Golf Club will hold one of its popular bridge parties on Friday evening, June 25, at the clubhouse, starting at 8 o'clock. Reservations for the affair should be made as soon as possible with Capt. J. V. Perks, Mrs. C. W. Pangman or Mrs. R. J. Tyhurst. Prizes will be arranged and supper will be served, under the direction of the ladies' committee.

House guests, Victorians and visitors numbering over 200 attended the supper dance at the Empress Hotel Saturday night. Billy Tickle's hit numbers, current, popular and played in lively swing by members of his ten-piece orchestra, included "They Can't Take You Away From Me," "How Could You?" "Was It Rain?" and "The Trouble With Me Is You."

Miss Margaret Green, daughter of the Surveyor-General, Mr. F. C. Green and Mrs. Green, Foul Bay Road, who has been visiting in Hongkong, and more recently in England, where she was in London for the Coronation festivities, returned home this afternoon, accompanied by her sister, Miss Edith Green, who went to New York via the Panama Canal, to meet her. The Misses Green have been visiting in Boston, Montreal and Quebec, en route home from New York.

Miss Barbara Grant and Miss Frances Lifton were joint hostesses at an "end of term" tea party yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. W. Grant, Chestnut Avenue. Roses were arranged in fragrant profusion in the reception-rooms, and in the dining-room the school colors of scarlet and white were reflected in the decoration of the tea-table, with its scarlet and white roses and white tapers. Mrs. G. W. Lifton poured tea. The guests, all members of the Sixth Form of St. Margaret's School, included the Misses Wendy Pinhorn, Phyllis Gibson, Betty Bleakney, Eleanor Drummond (Hongkong), Yvonne Lowden, Bonnie Brennan (Vancouver), Shirley Miller (Seattle), Evelyn Lettice, Mary Tweedy (Vancouver), Pat. Woodward (Penticton), Betty Lyman (Walla Walla), Barbara Cole (Seattle), Barbara Leigh (Seattle), Barbara Muttelbury, Sylvia Piddington, Rosemary Williams, Davina Dingwall and Margaret Lifton.

Mrs. Fred Doherty entertained on Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower given in compliment to Miss Muriel Ross, whose marriage will take place next month. Little Shirley Doherty gave the bride-to-be a pretty corsage bouquet of roses and ferns as she entered the living room. The many useful gifts were presented in a sailboat, which was drawn in by Freda and Jacquelyn Doherty to the music of "When My Dream Boat Comes Home," played by Miss Evelyn Dawson. Competitions were enjoyed, the prizes going to Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Woodford. The supper table was artistically arranged with a lace cloth and a bride cake in the centre. Special Music For Children

Despite uncertain weather which finally brought rain towards the end of the concert, an enthusiastic audience yesterday attended the concert of the First Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment band at Beacon Hill Park. Under the direction of Lieut. James M. Miller the band was heard in a programme of varied selections, with special numbers for children's day. The soloists were J. H. Jones, who rendered a piccolo number and Hugh McKenzie, cornetist.

Among the best received numbers by the band were a military tattoo and "Childhood Days," a group, including songs known by every child.

Verigin's Appeal On Sentence Fails

NELSON, B.C.—Peter Verigin the Younger lost the appeal he took to the Nelson County Court from the conviction and sentence by Stipendiary Magistrate R. A. D. Wood in nearby Castlegar six weeks ago that ordered him to jail for three months and to pay a $50 fine.

Judge W. A. Nisbett Saturday afternoon agreed with Magistrate Wood that the spiritual leader of Doukhobors in Canada was guilty of vagrancy. He left the jail sentence and fine unchanged. The vagrancy charge was laid after Alfred Erickson of Rossland reported Verigin, by turning a car broadside across the Rossland-Castlegar highway through the West Kootenay interior of the province, had forced him to stop his own truck several times in the space of a few miles.

In evidence at both hearings, Erickson and his wife testified Verigin shouted at them in Russian and swore in English.

SCOUT NEWS

D. Warner was made troop leader of the First Cathedral Troop at the weekly meeting last night, which was opened by C. Pottinger. A new patrol leader will be selected next week. Following inspection, an observation test was held, this being won by the Loons Patrol, which received a set of Morse flags. Major Spears, Rover commissioner from North Ireland, gave a short talk on the Rover Scouts in his country. The meeting closed in the usual manner, and was followed by a court of honor to decide for an over-night hike and camp at Royal Oak.

Howard Zaccarelli and David Rossi were the two new members welcomed into First Tillicum Troop at last Monday night's meeting. John Clayton was declared the best Scout for a month and was presented with the trophy. After the meeting a court of honor was held. A parents' meeting will be held June 24 when arrangements will be made for the troop's summer camping.

The North Quadra Troop will hold a whist drive in the scout hall on Glasgow Avenue tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in aid of the building fund. The public is invited to attend. Duty Patrol Leader Bob Gorst opened Friday night's meeting. Following an inspection and the playing of Kim's game, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson gave Patrol Leaders and Seconds instruction on first aid. Dr. Anderson has set Monday evening aside for his instruction periods in future, so as not to interfere with the general scout meetings.

The weekly meeting of St. Mary's Troop was opened Friday evening by Don McKechnie, Second of the Owls. Following an inspection, two lively games were played. Next came the usual instruction period in the patrol dens followed by three athletic competitions, which were won as follows: Obstacle race, Charlie Ballam, Eagles Patrol; patrol relay race, Herons; mixed tug-of-war, team captained by Bob Doe. District Commissioner J. Wise and Major Spear, scout commissioner in Northern Ireland, who is visiting Victoria for a week, were present during the evening. Tony Oldfield received his first class camp and pioneer badges and his grade A all-round cords. Preparations are being made now for the staging of the Troop's annual scout garden party, to be held June 19, at the Scout headquarters, Granite Street, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Many new attractions are being planned by the patrols. Members and the public is cordially invited to attend the affair.

Games to be played in the District Scouts Softball League this week are: Monday, James Island vs. 3rd Victoria, and Cathedral vs. St. Mary's; Thursday, Tillicum vs. Cadboro Bay Sea Scouts, North Quadra vs. 3rd Victoria and Cathedral vs. James Island.

Scout and Cup troops are requested to turn in their weekly notices at The Times office early Saturday morning or Friday night if possible.

How To Overcome Itching Piles

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane or Vancouver Drug Stores or any druggist, a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Garden Beauties Win Warm Praise

Flower lovers of Victoria were advised today by W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, to visit "Inglebrook," the home of Robert Waddell, at 3540 Maplewood Road, while the special blooms which Mr. Waddell cultivates are at the height of their perfection.

A riot of color, the garden is particularly noteworthy for the German Iris displays. They include 500 varieties and form probably the finest collection on Vancouver Island. Violas, pansies, and columbines have made a fine showing during the last few weeks and peonies, delphiniums, pyrethrum and roses are now blossoming.

Altered since last year, the garden has been planted with choice varieties of perennials recently imported from Great Britain and the United States. Two magnificent bushes of Kolquitzia, or beauty bush, are reported in full bloom.

The garden is continually open to the public.

Brownies Gave Fine Concert

The 1st Victoria Brownie Pack held a most successful concert in the Cridge Memorial Hall on Friday evening before a packed audience who were very much impressed by the splendid performance and excellent training of all members of the pack.

One of the most interesting items was the presentation of first-class badges to four Brownies, Kathleen Drysdale, Eunice Hewitt, Dorothy Groom and Thelma Whyte, by Miss Hilda Leighton, district commissioner. Miss Leighton addressed the pack and drew attention to the importance of Brownies being the beginning of Guide training, leading to Guides and Rangers. Bouquets were presented to the commissioner, Miss Leighton, and to Mrs. E. W. Abraham, Brown Owl of the pack. Songs and recitations were given by many individual Brownies, as well as action songs by the pack. The outstanding numbers were, "The Milkmaid," sung by Kathleen Drysdale and Vera Curtis; a humorous bandaging display, and a very attractive scene, "The Coronation of the Fairy Queen," the queen's part being very well taken by Audrey Grey with Gerry Kennedy, Ilma Simpson, Marjorie Burnett, Guida Reece, Georgina Collins, Kathleen Drysdale and Thelma Whyte as her chief attendants, assisted by the rest of the pack. An unusual feature was Shirley Drysdale's announcement of each item, heralded by a blast on the trumpet.

Charlton Football Team Welcomed To City

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

A MILD-SPOKEN chap with a sharp twinkle in his eyes, which give one the impression they are taking in every detail, Jimmy Seed, forty-two-year-old manager of the visiting Charlton Athletic Football Club, members of the English League first division, is just one of the boys. Except for a few grey hairs, Seed certainly did not look his age as he chatted with the writer in the rotunda of the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.

Seed is the chap who is being paid most of the credit for the sensational climb of the Charlton team from the third division of the English League to the first in the short period of four years. It marked a new record in the history of association football and says much for the managerial ability of Jimmy, who starred as a professional footballer himself, spending eight years with Tottenham Hotspurs and four with Sheffield Wednesday, both famous names to those who follow one of the world's most popular winter sports.

In the season just concluded, their first in the top division, Charlton finished runners-up to Manchester City, the champions, being only three points behind at the end of the forty-two-game schedule. "Next season we are looking forward to winning either the league or the cup," Seed said. "I will be able to open up next season with the same club and have the advantage of having a young team which is certain to improve. I can truthfully say that the Charlton boys are among the finest in football, being like just one big family, and it is a pleasure to be their manager."

Asked for his opinion on the calibre of football he had witnessed in the matches played to date in Canada and the United States, Seed said he had seen a mixed type. "At Calgary the players tried to play orthodox football but lacked experience and tactics," he said. "At Vancouver we ran into a totally different style. It was not exactly kick and rush, but the players lacked polish. It was the same style we ran up against in the matches at Detroit, Chicago and New York. One feature about the club on this continent that struck me forcibly was that they depend too much on their centre-forward. The inside men and wing players do not play their part," Seed declared.

Seed also touched on the play of the half-backs in America. "They still play what we call the old style as featured by amateur teams in the Old Country as the Corinthians. By that I mean the wing halves check the outside men and leave the inside forwards to the full-backs. Our style calls for the halves to look after the inside men. This system calls for the halves to break up an attack at its inception, which is the all-important feature of defence play, and also gives a better chance to feed their own forwards. The secret of the halves is to get the ball and make use of it."

Asked for his opinion as to the best way to improve football in Canada, Seed said: "Import about four coaches from the Old Country and have them conduct classes in all the cities, spending a couple of weeks in each. Players in this country have so much to learn about heading a ball, positional play and many other finer points. Teach them there is much more to soccer than just kicking a ball around for exercise."

Seed also told the writer his training schedule for Charlton during league competition. On Tuesdays the players engage in sprinting and ball practice. The same is repeated on Wednesday. Thursday is devoted to light gym work and sprinting. On Friday the players are massaged and a conference is held to discuss playing tactics for the match on the Saturday. During the league play

Touring Players Perform Tonight; Defeat Vancouver

Match Starts at 6.20 o'clock; Visitors Are Entertained

Fresh from their second Canadian victory at Vancouver on Saturday, Charlton Athletic football players and officials arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon from the mainland. The distinguished visitors from England were met on arrival at the C.P.R. docks by local soccer officials and extended a welcome to the Capital City.

In addition to the seventeen players traveling with the English League first division club, there is Manager Jimmy Seed, Dr. John Montgomery, club doctor, and Trainer Jimmy Trotter. Sam Davidson, Winnipeg, secretary of the Dominion of Canada Football Association, is also a member of the D.F.A. council; John Russell, Vancouver, former president of the D.F.A., and Alex Robertson, Victoria representative of the British Columbia Commission, accompanied the team from Vancouver.

VISIT BUTCHART'S GARDENS

After landing the visitors were placed in automobiles and taken on a drive to Butchart's Gardens, where they were welcomed by Mrs. R. F. Butchart, who entertained at tea.

On behalf of the Charlton team Dr. Montgomery expressed the thanks and appreciation of the visitors to Mrs. Butchart for her hospitality, following which Manager Seed presented the hostess with a Charlton club medal. Alderman Adam extended the appreciation of the Dominion Football Association to Mrs. Butchart. Yesterday evening the visiting team were the dinner guests of Chris Whalley, Vancouver, at the Beach Hotel.

Tonight at 6.20 o'clock Charlton will engage in an exhibition match against an all-star Victoria eleven at the Athletic Park. Indications point to one of the greatest crowds in the history of football in Victoria. Dave Swan will referee.

ALICE MARBLE IS DEFEATED

U.S. Tennis Champ Beaten By Mile. Jedrejowska in British Final

LONDON—Jadwiga Jedrejowska, hard-hitting girl from Poland, has developed into a full-sized menace for the world's feminine tennis stars.

Already holding one decision over Helen Jacobs in the French hard court championships, Mile. Jedrejowska Saturday scored her second victory in as many weeks over Alice Marble, United States singles titleholder.

It was Miss Marble's fourth successive defeat in the final round of a British tournament this year.

The men's singles final at Beckenham went to Jiro Yamagishi, Japanese Davis Cup player, who trounced C. R. D. Tuckey, England, 8-6, 1-6, 7-5.

Hal Surface, Kansas City, and Charles Harris, West Palm Beach, Fla., fell before the English combination of Charles Hare and F. H. D. Wilde, 6-2, 6-2, in the men's doubles.

In an all-English final, Katherine Stammers and Freda James defeated Betty Nuthall and Nancy Leyle, 6-3, 6-0, for the women's doubles championship.

The members are called on to observe strict training rules.

Seed had little to say about the work of the referees he had seen in action on the tour although he did admit he was surprised to see so little co-operation between the officials and their linesmen. "In England the two linesmen are practically two more referees and with their fine system there is always one official in direct line with the play," he said.

English Stars Nose Out Mainland All-stars By Score of 3 to 2

VANCOUVER — Charlton Athletic, the wonder team of English soccer, cut loose with all their brilliant power Saturday to snap a second-half challenge by a Vancouver all-star aggregation and earn a close 3 to 2 victory in the second game of their Canadian exhibition tour.

Fresh from their first Dominion game at Calgary where they whipped a picked Alberta squad 12 to 1 last Wednesday the crack English First Division outfit led 2 to 0 at halftime on two goals by Don Welsh and added another in the second half by George Robinson before the Vancouver team broke through.

A mainland goal, whipped in by Jimmy Spencer on a penalty shot, gave the all-stars new life and Dave Brown crashed in a second goal a short time later. The all-stars tried hard for the equalizer and it almost came near the end when Spencer had a clear path to the goal but was crowded as he shot. The ball went wide and the mainlanders never threatened after that as Charlton kept the play at centre field.

STRONG STARS

Tall Stan Stronge, goal-tender for the Vancouver City Police team in the Wednesday League and who last year minded the nets for Westminster Royals as they fought to the Dominion title, played brilliantly, making sensational stops as the Charlton forwards broke through time and again. He stopped at least four sure goals.

With long passes which never left the ground and clever combination play Charlton, the team which clinched from third to first division status in three years, worked in. Don Welsh, the left halfback, curled his foot around a pass from Harold Hobbs, outside left, and crashed it past Stronge for the first goal early in the game.

Some fifteen minutes later, Welsh again was in position as the ball came his way from a scramble in front of the Vancouver net and his shot beat Stronge cleanly as the local goalie tried to pick it out among the milling feet.

Less than one minute after the turnover George Robinson, Charlton's smart inside right, crashed a hard shot past Stronge as Charlton continued on the offensive. The Vancouver goalie was caught flat-footed by the long drive which curled upward to catch a corner of the net.

A few minutes later Vancouver won a penalty as Malcolm McManus, the centre forward, was sandwiched between the Charlton backs as the all-stars carried the play to the tourists.

SCORE FROM PENALTY

Jimmy Spencer of North Shore United who played inside left, took the shot, whipping the sphere into a corner for all-stars' first goal.

New life came to the Vancouver team with their lone counter and they continued to attack. The second goal came a few minutes later as Alex Christie, outside left, crossed to Dave Brown, the smart outside right from Saint Andrew's United, and he smashed the ball in from a scramble of feet as Charlton players swarmed around.

Charlton took charge after that and Stronge was called on time and again to save shots which rained from the feet of Charlton's forwards.

Toronto Visitor Lands Big Salmon

Fred Olsen Hooks Into Forty-seven and Half Pound Spring at Brentwood

The Deep Hole, one of the favorite fishing spots in Saanich Inlet, was the scene of a dramatic salmon vs. angler battle yesterday evening. The fisherman, Fred Olsen, Toronto, was the victor, reeling in a forty-seven and a half pound fish, which is believed to be the largest spring taken out of these waters since 1932.

Accompanied by Ernie Lee, a professional fisherman of Brentwood, and J. B. Slesson, a visitor from Edmonton, Olsen struck into the big one at approximately 6 o'clock and after a twenty-minute struggle managed to reel it within gaffing range. The lucky angler used 500 feet of line during the duel and a one-pound lead weight. For a lure he was using a large brass spoon.

As a tourist, Olsen will register his claim for a gold button with the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. Under the new ruling of the association, however, he will have to pay $5. His chances to capture 1937 angling honors in the inlet are excellent.

Roy Thompson's fifty-three and a half pound fish, caught on June 12 of 1932, is the largest catch registered with the association.

"Red" Laird and Bert Entwistle, fishing together, caught a twenty-three pounder and four ranging between eight and ten pounds. Ken Johns, who recently won his silver button with a thirty-one pound catch, returned with a seventeen pound specimen, while Faud Ray and Fred Smith reeled in three between them.

A pair of anglers who received their bronze buttons this month are H. S. Timberlake and H. B. C. Mason. Timberlake's catch weighed twenty-two and a half pounds and Mason's twenty-six and a half pounds.

Detroit Tigers Secure Barton

DETROIT—Cliff Barton signed a Detroit Tiger contract yesterday, strengthening the American League team's catching staff further weakened Saturday when Ray Hayworth suffered a fractured wrist. Bolton was obtained by the Tigers last week from Washington for the waiver price.

Hayworth's injury will keep him out of the game six weeks.

New Yorkers Hold Top League Spots

Ball Tourney Here Saturday

Leading softball clubs from Seattle and Vancouver will invade the city next Saturday afternoon when they will meet Victoria teams in a three-game tournament at the Athletic Park, Jack Taylor, president of the Lower Island Softball Association, announced today. Billed as one of the city's jubilee celebrations features, it is the first time an event of this sort has been arranged here.

Taylor stated that there will be a double-header in the afternoon with the winners meeting in the final in the evening.

But Atlantic Seaboard Teams Embarrassed; Dean Scores Shutout

The second invasion by the American League's east and the National west was over today, leaving both New York teams still in the driver's seat, but a set of very red faces generally throughout the Atlantic seaboard sector of the big time.

Although the biggest bust of all was a western club—Pittsburgh's collapsible Pirates—the just concluded swing in both leagues showed a balance of power through the west that spelled trouble in large doses for Manhattan's defending pennant holders.

The victory column showed thirty-seven triumphs for the American League's four western teams in their home stay, compared to fifteen for the invading easterners. In the National loop, although the easterners were at home, they won only twenty-five games, to thirty-two for touring troops.

Pacing the western outfits, Chicago's two teams—the Cubs and the walloping White Sox—were each only a half game off the pace in their respective loops, with the St. Louis Cards coming up fast back of the Cubs, and the Detroit Tigers red hot after the younger circuit pace setters.

With both leagues idle, here's for a quick look down the line:

Yesterday Giants were held to four hits by Peaches Davis to drop a doubleheader opener, 5 to 1, to the Reds, but came back to take the nightcap, 6 to 2.

YANKEE POWERHOUSE PRODUCING

... The Yankee pitching staff is overworked through assorted ailments to Monte Pearson and Spurgeon Chandler, but the power hitting, particularly by Joe Dimaggio and Lou Gehrig, enabled them to nearly break even in the west. They walloped the Browns, 16 to 9, in the opener yesterday, and battled to an eleven-inning eight-all tie in the nightcap, with Dimaggio clouting three homers.

The White Sox, in second division less than two weeks ago, won twelve to fourteen at home, best record in the majors, by suddenly coming up with pitching to go with their heavy hitting. They closed out with a double win, 9 to 4 and 3 to 2, over the Senators yesterday.

Crippled by early-season injuries, the Cubs' crack pitching staff is all present once more, and they've brought with them one of the League's heaviest-hitting attacks. They banged out twenty-two hits for a 16 to 8 opener win against the Phillies yesterday, then dropped the nightcap, 4 to 3.

The Pirates, leading the league ten days ago, have lost nine of their last eleven, nose diving to fourth place. Yesterday Van Mungo and the newly-acquired Freddy Fitzsimmons beat them twice as the Dodgers won, 6 to 2 and 4 to 1.

DEAN SCORES SHUTOUT

Dizzy Dean is keeping his mouth shut and producing—so the Cards are coming back. Bob Weiland whipped the Bees, 6 to 2, in yesterday's opener; then Dean pitched a five hit, nine strikeout, 1 to 0 shutout in the nightcap.

... Put the Indians in Cleveland and they're tops. Send them on the road and they flounder. They closed out their successful home stand with a double win over the punchless Athletics, 2 to 1 and 2 to 0.

Mickey Cochrane's injury and ailments to first rank pitchers haven't stopped the Tigers. With Roxie Lawson, Tommy Bridges and Elden Auker turning in fine performances, they're back in third place. A 3 to 1 victory over the Red Sox wound up a .750 home stand yesterday.

Espley Hits 118.16 m.p.h. In Speed Trials

Two Others Pass 100-mile Mark In Motor Bike Tests

Fastest Speeds Recorded Here Made By Riders On Colwood Stretch

J. Riddell Hurt

Stretched so low on his machine that his only view of the road was underneath his left handlebar, Bill Espley rode his Ariel Four (1,000 cubic centimetres) over a measured quarter mile on the Colwood stretch early yesterday morning to win top place in the annual speed trials of the British Motorcycle Club of Victoria with the remarkable speed of 118.16 miles per hour.

As far as could be learned this morning, this is a new Canadian record.

The time was considered so exceptional that the measurements of the course were rechecked, and the following statement was issued by F. E. Balsom, organizer of the event: "These times can be taken as absolutely accurate. Both watches, working independently, gave the same reading. Both watches were checked beforehand by two jewelers and found absolutely correct. The course was measured with a steel tape, and the paint marks are still there."

Two other riders chalked up speeds of 100 miles per hour and over. They were Bob Shanks on an Indian 45, and Jack Miller on a Rudge.

The three will receive special medallions which may be attached to their machines. Fourteen other solo machines, one sidecar combination and three cars which took part in the trials will receive certificates. Jimmy Well's much-hoped-for Mark 10 Triumph, burning straight alcohol and fitted with a ten-to-one compression ratio piston, suffered constant carburetion trouble, but managed to mark up a good speed in spite of continuous misfires.

MINOR ACCIDENT

The only blot on the event was an accident which took place after all the running had been completed and while the riders were heading back to the Belmont at Colwood for breakfast. Jack Riddell collided with the back of a car which stopped suddenly, and was removed to the Jubilee Hospital by the provincial police truck, suffering abrasions on the face and legs.

Bill Espley, Ariel Four (1,000 c.c.), 118.16 m.p.h.
Bob Shanks, Indian 45 (750 c.c.), 108.07.
J. Miller, Rudge Ulster (500 c.c.), 105.49.
Reg Shanks, Harley 61 (1,000 c.c.), 98.47.
Binks Rainford, Triumph Tiger 90 (500 c.c.), 97.4.
Tom Jones, Indian 45 (750 c.c.), 94.31.

In the bottom picture, taken shortly before 6 o'clock in the morning, the crowd leans forward expectantly as Jack Miller comes tearing down the stretch on his Ulster model Rudge to be clocked at 105.49 miles per hour.

Ralph Guldahl Is U.S. Golf Champ

Scores Record-breaking 281 to Capture National Open Title; Snead Second

BIRMINGHAM, Mich.—Big, stoop-shouldered Ralph Guldahl, the man who "called" his comeback shots, climaxed an epic golf struggle Saturday with a record-smashing triumph in the forty-first open championship of the United States.

The twenty-five-year-old Chicago free lance professional, so destitute a year ago that a friend helped him get his clubs "out of hock," came from behind in a miraculous finish to post a world record aggregate of 281 for big time competition.

The Texas-born giant whipped Old Man Par by seven full shots over the historic Oakland Hills layout, led his nearest rival, Sam Snead, by two strokes, and clipped a shot from the former world and United States open championship record of 282, set just one year ago at Baltusrol by Tony Manero.

GETS BIG HAND

Guldahl registered successive rounds of 71, 69, 72 and 69 in a finish that had par absolutely groggy and a gallery of nearly 8,000 spectators wild with excitement. The winner was cheered by the biggest golf crowd since Bobby Jones last won the event, in 1930 at Interlachen. Jones was among the onlookers.

Guldahl's final round was a rare combination of courageous recoveries and miracle shotmaking after Snead had posted a near record total of 283 that represented the third best performance in tournament history.

Trailing by one shot at the outset of the fourth and final round, Guldahl shot two birdies and an eagle to register an outgoing 33 and take a three-shot lead over Snead.

Faltering as he entered the stretch, with a pair of bogey fives that cost him all of his hard-won advantage, Guldahl grinned and proceeded to "rip" the course apart with a fighting finish that sent chills running along the spines of all who could scramble into places to see the big pro write a new chapter in golf history.

WIN TEAM BERTHS

Guldahl, Snead, Ed Dudley, Philadelphia, and Byron Nelson, Reading, Pa., shot their way into American Ryder Cup team berths.

With seven of the places filled, the Ryder Cup committee ruled the other four should be decided on the basis of the totals turned in for the thirty-six-hole P.G.A. qualifying round and the seventy-two-hole classic.

SINGH TAKES BOUT ON FOUL

Hindu Defeats James Casey Morrissey in Main Event of Wrestling Show

When James Casey Morrissey, former Red Shadow, repeatedly fouled his opponent, he lost his bout with Harnam Singh, powerful 224-pound Hindu, on a foul at the Tillicum gym Saturday night. It was the main event of the weekly wrestling show.

The former Shadow, gave his usual master badman performance. He soon had the fans up in arms against him. A Hindu crab in the second gave him the opening fall, and Morrissey equalized in the third when he gave his dazed opponent a final back breaker and then pressed him. Referee Johnny Pears awarded Singh a fall in the fourth session on a foul. Morrissey weighed 223 pounds.

Spectators fled when George "Cannonball" Kitzmiller, Portland, and Glenn Savage, New York, erupted from the ring to fight it out with fists in the aisles during their semi-main battle.

The result of the match was a one-fall draw. The New Yorker got his fall with a combined head scissors and body press, the Portland youth with a shoulder press after Savage had had a rough going over. Kitzmiller weighed 205 pounds, Savage 204.

Ivan Muscovitch, the bearded Russian, made his first Victoria appearance in the special event, losing to Sam "Legs" Leathers, Houston, Texas, on a one-fall decision.

Ben Bernie, Tillicum gym peanut and pop salesman, secured a one-fall win over Jack Frost, in the preliminary.

Hockey Stars Visitors Here

Alex Shibicky, member of Lester Patrick's New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, and Joe Krol, left winger for the Philadelphia Ramblers, Rangers' minor league farm club, arrived in Victoria on Saturday for a holiday.

The visitors were welcomed by Lynn and Murray Patrick and Dick Surphlis and the five young athletes will enjoy a week at Shawnigan Lake.

SMOOTH SAILING for you

YOU CAN FEEL NEW LIVELINESS IN YOUR MOTOR

Today's precision-built cars need something more than "just oil". Higher speeds and temperatures demand an oil like Mobiloil. The world's leading automotive engineers developed it for the cars of today. It's cleaner and longer-lasting because it's refined by the Clearsool Process. This scientific process couldn't get rid of impurities which old refining methods couldn't get rid of—impurities which break down under heat to cause sludge and carbon.

Your motor stays cleaner with Mobiloil. You have fewer repair bills. You use less oil. So look for a Mobiloil dealer. Have him drain your crankcase and refill with fresh, clean Summer Mobiloil. Then you're sure of smooth sailing ahead.

GYRO ARENA PLAN BACKED

Chamber of Commerce Directors Endorse Move to Build Forum Here

The Gyro Club's campaign to obtain a community forum for Victoria received the endorsement of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon today.

Duncan MacBride, vice-president of the chamber, who was in the chair in the absence in Ottawa of Harold Husband, president, spoke of the proposed arena as a major need of the city and one which he believed would receive support from citizens because it was a community enterprise and not a promotion scheme. The directors also paid tribute to the work of ex-mayor David Leeming in making arrangements for this year's Show Boat. Mr. Leeming addressed the meeting briefly, stressing the need of entertaining tourists after they had been attracted to the city, and expressing the belief that the city's $5,000,000 annual tourist business could be increased to $50,000,000 with proper development.

The directors also endorsed the city council's application to the department of transport for permission to build a wharf for fishing boats in the Inner Harbor.

STUDY SAANICHTON PLAN

A special committee will be named by the chamber to investigate the proposal for a scenic driveway along the Saanichton Spit, connecting Ocean View Beach with the Mount View Road. Correspondence in this connection between the sponsors of the scheme and the Saanich Council was read to the meeting.

The directors were notified of the annual meeting of the Up-Island Board of Trade to be held on Wednesday and Thursday at Port Alberni, and were urged to attend.

A communication from the Courtenay-Cornwall Board of Trade asking endorsement for a resolution urging the government to discontinue its present road policy and to build a concrete highway in place of the present macadamized Island Highway was received and filed after several directors had paid tribute to the improvements made in the highway during the last few months.

T. Elwood Watkins, in his report on behalf of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, asked the support of the directors for the day and night parades arranged for the first week in August in connection with the city's seventy-fifth anniversary celebrations.

The Junior Chamber was congratulated by Mr. MacBride for their work in raising funds to send the pipe band of the Canadian Scottish to the Golden Gate Bridge ceremonies in San Francisco.

Victoria Delegates to Portland Rose Festival Honored at Big Function

Royally entertained and knighted at special ceremonies during the Portland rose festival, Alderman James Adam was back in Victoria this morning, warm in his praise of the splendid treatment accorded this city's official delegates there. Mayor Andrew McGavin, who was also knighted by the Rosarians, is returning to town this afternoon.

Before an assembly of approximately 30,000 people in the Multnomah Stadium on Friday night, Mayor McGavin and Alderman Adam were invested with the Knighthood of the Rose at a spectacular ceremony, in which their part was a highlight.

They with Alderman John Worthington and Mrs. Worthington and Mrs. McGavin and Mrs. Adam, participated in the big parade Friday morning. The procession, with gorgeous floats and forty-two bands, took three hours to pass the reviewing stand, Alderman Adam reported.

Once again pipers from Victoria gained unstinted praise for their parts in the function. Newspaper accounts of the appearance and playing of the Second Battalion, Canadian Scottish Band, were warm in their commendation, and Victoria was credited with the entry of a spectacular float immediately following the band. The float, entered by Vancouver, was lettered indistinctly, and the banner carried by the pipers, advertising Victoria, was taken as the forefront of the decorated car.

During their stay in Portland, the Victorians participated in all official functions, including the luncheon, the state dinner and Queen's Ball in the Masonic Hall.

TWO THIEVES SEEN AT WORK

Woman and a Man Report
They Witnessed Theft and Entry of Room and Office

Two thieves who broke into city premises yesterday, were watched at work, one failing to secure any loot, while the other took $5 from a purse in front of the owner.

W. W. McDonald, 581 St. Charles Street, reported he was sitting in his office in the Union Bank Building yesterday afternoon when he heard the door being opened. He questioned a young man who had jimmied the door and the man answered he had been sent there by a taxi company. He walked out in a hurry.

A third week-end entry was reported this morning at Norfolk House School, where a thief entered the basement door with a pass key, ransacked the premises but did not take anything.

FAMOUS TAXI
IS SCREENED

"Eloise" of Paris Used On
"Seventh Heaven"
Screen Set

One of the famed French taxicabs that took an important part in the World War makes its appearance in "Seventh Heaven," the Twentieth Century-Fox romance starring Simone Simon and James Stewart, which opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

The cab, dubbed "Eloise," saw war service in 1914 when, with the German army under Von Kluck but twenty-five miles away from the city's gates, General Gallieni commandeered the taxis of Paris to carry the sixty-second division to the front. The general's swift action saved the city.

At the close of the war, the cab, now one of the few remaining in the world, and therefore a valuable museum piece, was brought to Hollywood. When authentic wartime Montmartre atmosphere was required for scenes in "Seventh Heaven," Twentieth-Century-Fox property men rolled the famed taxi — a Renault — out of its garage and tuned it up for its important role.

Formerly, a rousing western—known to the trade as a "horse opera"—required nothing but a few cowboys, some broncos, some Indians and a sackful of guns.
But that time has passed.

"Land Beyond the Law," starring Dick Foran, the singing cowboy, is a case in point. The picture comes to the Columbia Theatre today. Its title was the name given to the territory of New Mexico when General Lew Wallace (later author of "Ben Hur") became its governor.

Shown at the same time will be "15 Maiden Lane," starring Cesar Romero and Claire Trevor.

CAPITOL THEATRE
The return to Hollywood of Dorothy Parker, famous wit, and her husband, Alan Campbell, came as something of a surprise to their filmland friends who believed the pair had deserted the cinema capital for all time.

The Campbells, who recently purchased a farm in Pennsylvania and turned farmers, were lured back by David O. Selznick to write the screen play for his production, "A Star Is Born," in which Janet Gaynor and Fredric March are co-starred at the Capitol Theatre today.

tomorrow in "King of Gamblers,"

FORAN SINGS

"Land Beyond the Law"
Current Picture at Columbia

The western picture still holds its own as one of the most widely

Towering pines and oaks are silver birches and drooping wil-created by Anton Grot, art director for the screen setting of "A

Warner Bros. production now

For the fairyland of trees, the art director conceived a unique

Gnomes and hamadryads, no-

Zanuck Terms Irving Berlin
Musical Frontstage
Production

One way of getting something different in the way of musical screen fare is the procedure Twentieth Century-Fox adopted on its new Irving Berlin musical,
"On the Avenue," starring Dick Powell and Madeleine Carroll, which opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

By reversing age-worn dogmas of musical production, Darryl F.
Zanuck, vice-president in charge of production; associate producer,
Gene Markey, songwriter Irving Berlin; director, Roy Del Ruth, and dance director, Seymour Felix, arrived at an entirely new type of screen entertainment.

Deciding against the too-familiar backstage musical, they appropriately dubbed "On the Avenue" a "frontstage" musical, inasmuch as a good deal of the action emanates from the audience of this show-within-a-show.

Story of the Circus I--IN EARLY TIMES

In these days we are in the custom of thinking almost everything that goes on is "the biggest and best" in history. This is true about a great many things, but not entirely true of the circus.

Outside of Barnum's Museum

Two thousand years ago, the Romans had circus crowds which would make those of today look small. There were several circuses in Rome, but the largest of them was the Circus Maximus. It was a large field or arena, with seats around it.

The length of the Circus Maximus was a little more than one-third of a mile, and the width was 625 feet. It has been estimated that the circus had seats enough for a quarter of a million people!

Chariot races were the great events at the Circus Maximus. There were also wrestling matches and other athletic contests, as well as fights between wild animals, and between men and animals. At one performance, we are told, twenty elephants and 500 lions were killed.

The modern circus is not so large as in ancient Rome, but I think it is better--for it does not have bloodshed in it.

After the Goths and other tribes swept over southern Europe, Roman circus days ended. For several hundred years, the people of Europe saw hardly anything we might call a "circus." There were, however, acrobats and jugglers who went from place to place to perform. We also read that King Alfred of England once attended a "wild beast show."

It is hard to say who should be called "the father of the modern circus," but an Englishman named Philip Astley was an important pioneer. Starting out as the head of Astley's British Riding School in London, he caused a field to be walled in, and a roof placed over it. He called the place the Royal Grove, and people paid money to go inside and watch him perform some daring riding stunts. He also amused the audience by the acts of clowns, acrobats and "rope-dancers."

Astley started his career as a showman in the year 1770. The Royal Grove was destroyed by fire, but was built again in 1803. The new building had seats for 3,000 persons.

Another Englishman, John Bill Ricketts, sailed to the United States and settled for a time in Philadelphia, where he formed a circus. In addition to riding stunts, Ricketts and his helpers gave comic-dancing and rope-dancing acts. A feature was a dwarf who "leaped through a hoop of fire." One of those who attended the show was the American President, George Washington. Performances were given in New York, Baltimore and Albany, as well as in Philadelphia. The most famous pioneer of the modern circus was P. T. Barnum, who conducted a museum of freaks in New York City. In our next story, we shall speak of his life and work.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

TUESDAY, JUNE 15, 1937
This is an uncertain day in planetary direction, according to astrology. Unrest among workers may be greatly fomented. Secret propaganda may affect many women.

The stars may encourage plotting and undercover activities on the part of agents unfriendly to union principles. While many new trades will be thoroughly unionized before the end of the summer, strikes will be less numerous. Anxiety on the part of employers is forecast, for the government will rely upon many industrialists to produce needed machinery for the extension of national defense.

There is a sign read as most promising to all constructive activities. Builders will be overwhelmed with contracts and short-sets of material may be widespread. Girls should avoid initiative in new friendships under this configuration, which is hostile to romance. Young men may be cruelly critical, for erotism will be accentuated at this time. It will multiply and women will enlist in crusades to prevent the United States entering into compacts with foreign nations.

As a sign of a year of prosperity, but a death may affect financial affairs in certain cases.

Children born on this day probably will be talented and temperamental. Subjects of this sign may be of artistic temperament and yet sound thinkers. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, singer, was born on this day, 1864. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Edward Grog, composer, 1863, and Frank Edwin Elwell, sculptor, 1888.

Marriage Is Just
What You
Make It

Dorothy Dix

Success
Depends
More On
The Wife

AND SO, daughter, you are going to be married, and you are hoping and praying that your marriage will stick and will not become one of those messy affairs that peter out in divorce in two or three years, with the young wife taking the baby and going back home to mother and hunting for a job to support herself.

Well, marriage is what you make it. You get out of it just as much as you put into it. This goes double for women because every wife is twice as much married to her husband as he is to her, and unfair and unjust or not, the success of the marriage depends more upon her than it does upon him.

Now, no woman who has ever been through the matrimonial mill herself, and who remembers with smiles and tears how dumb she was, and the mistakes and blunders she made when she was a bride, can ever see a girl marching to the altar without yearning to load her down with advice. I'm like that, and so here's my two cents' worth:

My first bit of counsel is to look upon marriage as a job instead of a romantic adventure. Marriage isn't a sentimental journey. It is a long, hard road that is difficult to travel. You will find plenty of disillusionments and discouragements, but it leads to Paradise if you have the courage and grit to follow it. Make up your mind that you are going to stick it, no matter what happens. That you are going to put your heart and your back into making your marriage a success, and that you are going to be just as good a wife as you were a private secretary or clerk.

My next bit of counsel is to watch your step the first year of marriage. That is the crucial time when you and your husband will virtually settle the whole status of your future life together. It is then that you will form the quarrelling habit, or acquire dexterity in handling each other with gloves. Don't argue. Don't nag. Don't henpeck. Don't forget that the greatest charm that any wife can have for her husband is being easy to live with.

Don't expect too much from your husband. Fairy Princes exist only in young girls' imaginations. No woman ever marries one. The man she gets is just a plain ordinary human being as full of faults and foibles as she is. He is irritable when he is hungry, so feed him instead of bursting into tears when he snaps at you. He has to blow off steam or explode when he has been nagged by the boss, or had to deal with cantankerous clients all day, so make yourself into a handy safety valve for him instead of taking it as a personal affront. He is not romantic by nature, so let him say it with cheques in place of orchids, instead of thinking he has ceased to love you.

Don't put away your romance with your wedding veil and lock it up in the closet of your heart. Keep on being a lover. Before marriage a man does the courting. After marriage the wife must do it if she wants to keep the fire burning on the altar. No matter how much a man takes his wife for granted, he doesn't want her to take him that way and regard him as just a bill-payer. He wants her to fuss over him and flatter him, and tell him how happy she is and what a good husband he is and how she thanks her lucky stars that she got him.

Don't throw away your bait. You know by what tricks you charmed the bird out of the bush. Keep them up. Dress up for him. Cater to his whims and prejudices. Make home attractive. Enter into his moods instead of being a killjoy. Listen to him. Praise him for the things he does well and let somebody else tell him of his faults. The reason most husbands leave home is to escape the critic on the hearth, and to find a woman who will give them the glad hand.

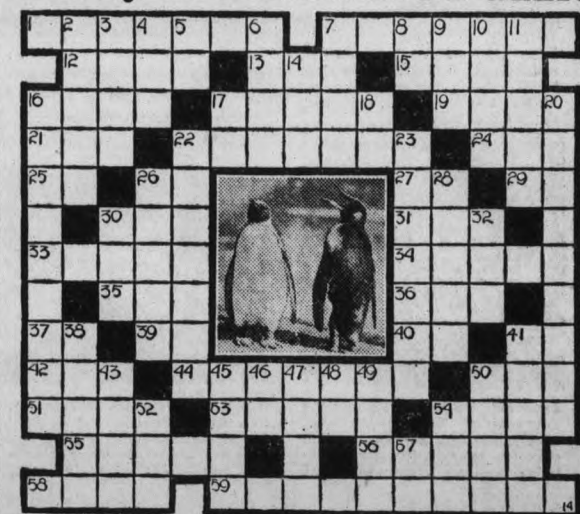

Learn how to be a good cook and run a budget. It is just as much a wife's duty to be a good manager as it is her husband's to be a good provider.

Take your husband "as is." If you don't like his manners and his habits, his politics and his religion, don't marry him. Being made over according to the wife's taste is a painful process and few husbands forgive the women who do it.

Laugh off your husband's faults instead of making tragedies out of them. It is far better for a wife to have a funnybone than a classical profile.

REPAIR BRIDGE

VANCOUVER—A gang of repair men is at work on the inside face of the south side of Kit-silano bridge, where some portions were reported ripped away by a scow towed by Lamb Lumber Company tugboat Master.

C.P.R. Orient Ships Operating 50 Years

VANCOUVER—The fiftieth anniversary of the arrival in Vancouver from China and Japan of Ss. Abyssinia, was marked yesterday, and this young but great seaport took time off to observe a notable milestone.

For the old steamer, chartered with the Parthia and Batavia, actually inaugurated the Canadian Pacific's steamship service connecting the Far East to the "all red" railway line across Canada.

The Abyssinia reached Vancouver from Yokohama June 13, 1887, with a rich tea cargo, but Canada's industrial growth in the last half century may be estimated by the fact that her return cargo, consisted of but forty tons of general and the bones of Chinese who had died on this side of the Pacific, which were being shipped back for burial in the land of their ancestors.

Now, however, the four modern vessels of the Canadian Pacific fleet, headed by the 26,000-ton 22-knot Empress of Japan, and including the 22,000-ton Empress of Canada and the 17,000-ton Empress of Asia and Empress of Russia, are loaded each voyage with the products of Canada's farms, mines, forests, fisheries and factories.

The Abyssinia was 2,800 gross tons, 23,000 tons less than the present Empress of Japan, and took nearly a month for the 4,280-mile crossing from Yokohama to Victoria, the same crossing that was accomplished by the Empress of Japan in 1931 in 7 days 20 hours 16 minutes.

Times have changed, but Vancouver has every reason to cherish the memory of the old Abyssinia, the beginning of the port's passenger and mail service to the Far East.

NEWSBOY EXCURSION

Two hundred and fifty newsboys of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer arrived here by C.P.R. steamer from Seattle yesterday. They went sightseeing in buses and the Crystal Garden rang with the joyous shouts of the youngsters as they enjoyed a swim in the pool.

The boys returned to Seattle Sunday afternoon after a most enjoyable time spent here. The circulation department of the Post-Intelligencer brings a newsboy excursion each year.

CRUISE TO SATURNA

Five cruisers, a similar number of sailing dinghies, the yawl Minerva and the schooner Blue Water made the week-end cruise to Boot Bay, Saturna Island. Owing to lack of wind, the smaller sailing craft were taken in tow by the power boats. The fleet left the Cadboro Bay moorings of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Saturday and returned on Sunday. The cruise was directed by Fleet Captain J. F. Dick of the Jeran.

VISITOR DELAYED SHIP

R.M.S. Empress of Canada, outbound for the Orient, experienced slight delay Saturday evening when she was forced to put back to disembark a young man who had gone aboard here to look over the ship and had failed to notice the "all ashore" signal. He gave his name as W. L. Frith of Vancouver and asserted that the ship was well away from the dock before he realized it. Capt. W. T. Kinley, commander of the Canadiana, radioed James Macfarlane, C.P.R. passenger agent here, and a launch was sent out to take off the unlisted traveler.

COAST MISSION BOATS ACTIVE

VANCOUVER—Columbia Coast Mission's three floating "hospitals-churches" traveled 22,065 miles during 1936, and its three base hospitals located at strategic points along the British Columbia Coast treated patients for 10,365 hospital days, according to the annual report of the organization released for publication.

The report was the first submitted to Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, D.D., Bishop of Columbia, and president of the mission, by Rev. Ian D. Greene who last year succeeded Rev. John Antle as superintendent of the Anglican Church-operated coast service.

Principal change made in 1936 was purchase of a new hospital ship, the Florida V, which shortly will be renamed the John Antle in honor of the former superintendent's long service. The original John Antle was recently sold.

In reference to the new service, Rev. Mr. Green reported: "The present situation therefore brings into being the long considered plan of Mr. Antle, of a hospital and an attendant ship as a unit, in each case, viz. St. Mary's Hospital, Pender Harbor and the John Antle; St. Michael's Hospital, Rock Bay; and the Rendezvous, and St. George's Hospital, Alert Bay and the hospital ship Columbia. It is the most effective arrangement of hospitals and attendant mission ships that could be desired and guarantees valuable ministrations to the lives of the people in each area, along the three-fold approach to their lives, the medical, the social and the spiritual."

Mr. Green said he "would like to assure the board of management that in spite of many adjustments in personnel last year we are reaching a point where I think that there is, throughout the mission a real spirit of oneness, a family spirit, where we are interested not only in our particular jobs, but in each other's work."

Mr. Green said he hoped some suitable capital expenditure could be made shortly as a memorial to the late A. N. Tregent whose will made a substantial bequest to the mission.

In his report on mission and hospital ships, in reference to the John Antle the superintendent said: "This ship has been adopted by Victoria as her particular child and will make periodical visits there to keep contact with the numerous friends in Victoria who support her."

"I take this opportunity of expressing to the Victoria committee, the Anglican Young Peoples' Association and all the friends of this little ship, my sincere thanks for their splendid and generous effort in raising some $1,658.05 last year."

SHIP BEACHED IN COLLISION

Passengers From Ss. Royal Archer Rescued By Lifeboats in Thames

LONDON—With water roaring through a gaping hole in the side of the British steamer Royal Archer, 120 passengers groped their way to safety late Saturday aboard lifeboats and motor launches after a collision in a fog in the Thames estuary.

The other vessel involved in the mishap, the 9,429-ton Newcastle steamer Gleniffer apparently was little damaged.

The Royal Archer, 2,266-ton ship owned by the London and Edinburgh Shipping Company, was en route from London to Aberdeen when the collision occurred.

With his vessel holed amidships and water entering the engine room, the captain of the Royal Archer drove full speed for Maplin sands. As the ship was beached, wireless calls for aid were sent out. The passengers, many of whom were holiday-
